DRACUT CHILD KILLED BY AUTO ON LOWELL-LAWRENCE ROAD

Martin Walsh, Camp Devens Soldier, Held on Manslaughter Charge—Four-Year-Old Robert Bradley Died Early Today as Result of Auto Accident Yesterday

Martin Walsh, a soldier stationed at Camp Devens and a member of B company, 13th infantry, was held in $2000 bail when he appeared in district court this morning, to face a manslaughter charge. The charge resulted from the death of four-year-old Robert Bradley, who died early this morning as the result of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when struck by an auto driven by the defendant on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in Bellegrove.

Walsh's attorney waived the reading of the complaint and the case was continued to October 6. A complaint of operating a motor vehicle so that the lives of the public might be endangered was also pinned against Walsh and this, too, was continued to the same date.

Bodies of Two Brothers Found Hanging

GORHAM, Me., Sept. 26.—The bodies of two men, past middle life and believed from their appearance to be brothers, were discovered today hanging from limbs of a huge pine tree in a thick growth of woods, half a mile from South street. The first theory advanced was that they had hanged themselves recently in a suicide pact.

THREE MILE LIMIT STANDS

Cabinet Decides to Restrict Prohibition Enforcement Operations

Prohibition Officials to Be Cautioned to Observe This Decision

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The cabinet at its meeting today decided to restrict prohibition enforcement operations within the three-mile limit at sea except in cases where ships beyond that limit are in communication with shore through their own crews and small boats. Prohibition enforcement officials, it was said, would be cautioned to observe this decision.

The subject of searches for contraband liquor beyond the three-mile limit formed the principal topics of discussion before the cabinet. Examination of international law authorizing customs or other operations up to the 12-mile limit were found by the president's advisers to be out of harmony with international law, and it was held that attempts to carry out the munition law provisions might involve the government in embarrassments with other countries.

ANNOUNCE NEW SCALE OF RENTS

Memorial Auditorium Trustees Decide on New Rate Schedule

Many Big Attractions Booked for Auditorium During the Winter Months

The publication of a stellar program of attractions already booked for the Memorial Auditorium during the winter months, including several of the world's greatest artists, such as Gail Curot, Geraldine Farrar, Ruth St. Denis and Fred Shaw, Irene Castle, Boston Symphony orchestra, Fritz Kreisler, Rachmaninoff and Frida Hempel and the announcement of a new scale of rentals for both the auditorium and Liberty hall, were the features of a meeting of the board of trustees held last evening.

When the original schedule of rentals was published, it was with the understanding that there would be a reduction if conditions warranted. The new and lower scale is now announced because of a desire to bring the very best attractions to the city, without exacting too great an overhead charge upon the sponsors.

The new scale follows: Main Auditorium, 6 p. m. to 12 midnight, $200; 12 noon to 6 p. m., $100; mornings, $50; Liberty hall, 6 p. m. to 12 midnight, $50; 12 noon to 6 p. m., $30; mornings, $20. For chair and Mon. A. Auditorium, $20 per hour after 12 midnight; Liberty hall, $5 per hour after 12 midnight; use of kitchen included in foregoing charges. Use of Auditorium for one full day, $250; for three or more days, $225 per day; use of Liberty hall for one or more full days, $75 per day. Nationalists To Accept Conditions Laid Down By Allies But Insist On Continuing Military Movements

Reply to Allies Also Demands Russia, Bulgaria and Persia Be Admitted to Proposed Peace Conference—Military Situation Becomes Increasingly Serious—Turks Occupy Two Points in Neutral Zone—Soviet Russia Proposes Immediate Near Eastern Conference to Prevent New Outbreak of Bloodshed—Sultan to Abdicate

(By the Associated Press) The Turkish situation reached another critical stage today. Kemal Pasha's reply to the allied governments has been made known at Constantinople by his aide-de-camp and is an acceptance of proposed conditions but with insistence that Turkish military movements shall proceed and that Russia, Bulgaria and Persia shall be admitted to the proposed peace conference.

LOWELL MILLS TO BE REPRESENTED AT SOUTHERN TEXTILE SHOW

Seventeen States Will Be Represented at Big Textile Exposition in Greenville, South Carolina, Oct. 19 to 25—Three Conventions to Be Held During Textile Week

Lowell cotton mill proprietors, far from admitting that increasing southern mill competition is going to shade prospects for future operations of local textile machinery and sales campaigns on this side of the Mason and Dixon line, are on their toes this week, so to speak, planning to prove to some of the friendly competitive "upstarts" in the southern cotton industry that Lowell is still in the textile ring.

The status of the petitions for Plan B charter for Lowell was veiled in secrecy and shrouded in mystery today. HORSE RAN AWAY WHEN HIT BY AUTO

As a result of an automobile accident which occurred in Westford street late yesterday afternoon, a horse hitched to a peddler's wagon ran away and before it was brought to a stop, the wagon was badly damaged, while the animal sustained injuries to its legs. The driver of the wagon escaped by jumping from his seat.

3800 P. C. PROFIT IN "CHAMPAGNE"

Real Chemical Accomplishment Made at Cost of $1.75 a Quart—Sold for $40

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Champagne that defies detection—sparkles and has a real kick—is being synthetically manufactured in New York and sold at a profit of 3800 per cent, John D. Appleby, zone chief of federal prohibition enforcement has discovered. Insufficient evidence, Agent Appleby said, prevents an arrest by his forces. He has written the department at Washington recommending that the firm's request for a permit to store wine for the legitimate trade be denied.

The champagne, he said, is a real chemical accomplishment and is manufactured at a cost of $1.75 a quart. It is sold to discriminating trade, he said, at $40 a quart.

U. S. SEN. WATSON DEAD

Georgia Man Died Suddenly at His Home in Washington Today

ATLANTA, Sept. 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Senator Thomas E. Watson of Georgia, who died suddenly at his residence in Washington, early today, was one of the most famous figures in the history of Georgia politics and during the last four years, was considered by observers as wielding the strongest political influence in the state.

As an author, Watson's best known work was "The Story of France" which was used in the schools of France.

The "Sage of McDuffie" as he was known by his followers throughout the state, built up his political strength through his publications. When the government stopped his two papers during the war, he soon was publishing the Columbia Sentinel. This weekly paper has been devoted to discussion of state and national politics and during the senator's residence in Washington often contained accounts of his daily record in the senate.

"Our floors are more than clean"

"Some housekeepers think that thorough and frequent scrubbing is all that floors ever need. I had that idea, too, before I realized that average soaps and scouring compounds haven't any effect on germs which get into floor cracks and crannies.

"Sarah Marsh enlightened me. She popped in one Friday morning while I was mopping up the mud the Harrigan boy always brings into the kitchen when he delivers the meat. I don't believe he knows a door mat when he sees one right under his nose.

"Sarah watched me fill a fresh pail of scouring suds. 'Goodness gracious, Ethel!' she exclaimed, 'Why don't you use Sylpho-Nathol in your mop-water? How do you expect to destroy the germs in the dirt that's brought in from the street on people's shoes? Did you ever stop to think of the positive danger that is tracked back and forth across your floors from morning until night?'

"That's how I was introduced to Sylpho-Nathol.

"Sylpho-Nathol is an effective safeguard against germs because it is 4 1/2 times stronger than carbolic acid. But it doesn't hurt your hands a bit, nor injure things. 'The druggist says it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. Just a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use.'

Mop-water is just one of the many things for which Sylpho-Nathol is indispensable. It should be used regularly for sink drains and garbage receptacles; for cellar corners; around the bathroom tiling and fixtures; as a flush for the closet bowl—wherever odors may start or disease germs breed. Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 25c, 50c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—'Sylpho-Nathol.'

WHAT KIND OF IRON HAVE YOU BEEN TAKING?

The Newer Form of Iron. Like the Iron in Your Blood, or Ordinary Metallic or Mineral Iron—It's Important to Know the Difference—How to Tell.

A child must have time to make bone, but it gets organic lime from the milk and not mineral lime from lime rocks. So the 30,000,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood must have iron, but nature put food iron—not mineral iron—for your blood in the husks of grains and the pulp and skins of vegetables; modern methods of cooking throw them all away, hence the alarming increase in anemia—iron starvation of the blood. With the devastating weakness, nervousness and other attendant ills it brings. You should either go back to nature or take the newer form of food iron to make up for this great loss and maintain your bodily and mental vigor. The iron that people usually take is mineral or metallic iron and is not absorbed at all. This newer form of iron may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. It is made from more than 100 times as much iron as does metallic iron. But when your health is at stake, get the best. Your money will be repaid by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dow, F. H. Democratic State Convention Continued the platform's only reference to the candidacy of Joseph C. Pelletier, who was removed as district attorney of Suffolk county by the Massachusetts supreme court, but who seeks re-election as the democratic candidate nominated at the primary. Mr. Pelletier, disbarred from practice in state and federal courts following his removal, has been instrumental in getting before the voters at the November election a referendum on a law providing that only attorneys may hold the office of district attorney.

The address of Senator David I. Walsh as permanent chairman of the convention was awaited with interest in view of the fact that he is chairman of the party's senatorial campaign committee. Mayor James M. Curley of Boston will call the convention to order at 2 p. m.

Fitzgerald Flays G.O.P. Platform

The platform adopted by the republican state convention Saturday was attacked by a reactionary and a meaningless platitudes, and the republican claims of a policy of economy in the commonwealth were met with the assertion that the policy was one of shortsightedness by John E. Fitzgerald of Boston, democratic nominee for governor.

SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH

"The Massachusetts republican convention," he said, "dominated by the same reactionary interests which denounced Sen. La Follette in convention a few years ago, cheered the name of Newberry and declined to denounce his debauchery of elections, for the specious reason that this is Massachusetts not Michigan but doubting because of the fact that his vote enabled the senate to be organized under the leadership of a Massachusetts republican."

Declaring that Gov. Channing H. Cox, his republican opponent, asks to be re-elected on a program of economy, he added that the former stands upon a platform which approves a tariff law, "drawn to enrich the heads of the humble purchasers of low priced woolsens."

"The republican platform commends an administration at Washington which has been rebuked by the people at every opportunity given them in the orderly process of election and it approves an administration at Boston which has been marked by genial incompetence."

Played Game of Coal Interests.
"With deliberate intent, or with a stupidity that is lamentable, the republican state administration has played the game of the coal interests with a fervor that causes us to wonder whether Massachusetts is in the hands of her people, or is being manipulated for the sole benefit of the coal operators of Pennsylvania and the southern coal fields."

"A fuel administrator who dared to warn our people against the danger of extortion was relegated, was forced to sit idly by on the sidelines while a new fuel administrator was appointed with the seeming purpose of being enabled to stampede the people into filling their cellars with soft coal at an exorbitant price."

Asserting that Massachusetts, with the exception of five democratic executives, has been under unbroken republican control since the Civil war, Mr. Fitzgerald charged that this long republican regime had retarded development.

Referring to the New England textile strike, the candidate for governor said:

"The republican administration deplored alleged massacres in far-off Smyrna, but could not bring itself to say a single word of protest against industrial disturbances in our own state where many thousands of mill workers were forced either to leave their families or to remain there and suffer the wage slashes which reduced their income below the standard of living approved by the government itself."

Appointments For Women

As governor, Mr. Fitzgerald said, he would have in mind that the women must share equal responsibility with the men in the conduct of all public affairs.

"To the first vacancy existing in the public trustees of the Boston Elevated I shall appoint a woman. I shall appoint a woman to the bench in the municipal court and I shall give them their fair quota of places in such state departments as the labor and industrial accident boards where their sympathetic interest will guarantee fair dealing for those who toil."

"These resolutions committee announced later in the morning that a plank favoring adjusted compensation for ex-service men had been approved. The plank declared for payment in the immediate future by cash, lands, mortgages or insurance.

"The party's support was also pledged to a program of legislation for the proper 'hospitalization' of disabled veterans."

"We denounce the action of the present administration," the plank read, "in appropriating money for the avowed purpose of helping the ex-service men and then failing to give them the benefit which should properly be derived therefrom."

Col. Gaston and his two sons, William and John, arrived here yesterday and they have been busy over since meeting delegates and discussing issues and prospects. Col. Gaston seems to be the busiest and most enthusiastic man here.

Reception at Hotel Worthy

Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald came in the afternoon and visited his son who lives here. He was at the Hotel Worthy last evening and got into the reception line with Col. Gaston, Mr. Doherty, John Swift, candidate for attorney general, and Mrs. Cram, candidate for state auditor. There was a great crowd at the reception in one of the parlors. It began at 8 o'clock and lasted more than an hour.

Mayor Curley arrived in the afternoon and got considerable of a reception from his friends. He has been closeted with the resolutions committee all the evening.

James H. Vahey has been very busy in consultation with Col. Gaston and in the resolutions committee, of which he is a member. Prof. Harris of Harvard has also been busy on the resolutions.

Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, who was a candidate for nomination for governor in the primaries, is here with a delegation, and is very busy.

Mayor Flynn of Pittsfield, Mayor Higgins of Fall River, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, and a number of other mayors and ex-mayors are here, all working for "the ticket." They all are anxious for harmony in the convention tomorrow.

Sherman L. Whipple is expected, but he had not arrived at a late hour last evening. Mrs. Susan Y. Fitzgerald is one of the busiest of the women delegates. She and Miss May Matthews are on the resolutions committee.

Timothy O'Sullivan came from Lowell early in the afternoon with a number of friends.

Roland D. Sawyer of Ware, on the resolutions committee, is for a bonus and against the tariff.

The delegates of the four western counties are all enthusiastic over Gaston and Fitzgerald.

FIRE RAGED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

No Details Given But Population is Said to Be in State of Panic

LONDON, Sept. 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Further indications of the restlessness of the Turkish nationalists over the enforced idleness while waiting for peace to be arranged, are recounted in the despatches from Constantinople.

Two divisions of Turkish cavalry or about 8000 men, have occupied Eren Keul, which lies only 10 miles southwest of Chana, the main British position from which heavy guns can dominate the city.

SHE RECOVERED LOST AMBITION

Many people who are not actually ill are unhappy because they are dissatisfied to an extent that they are without strength or ambition. This is a condition that can be remedied by the use of the right tonic as the following case shows:

"I lost all ambition and was very weak and nervous," says Mrs. Ann Kierman of No. 8 Kepler street, Providence, R. I. "My trouble was nervous debility and although I was not confined to bed, I was ill for five or six weeks. I spent sleepless nights, had no appetite and was subject to chills, especially along my spine. One of the most annoying symptoms of my trouble was dizziness and during all these weeks I was 'dizzy headed'."

"Many years ago Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had been used in my family with great benefit and as nothing else helped me, I determined to give them a trial. A short time after I began taking them I felt better. My nerves became steady and I was able to sleep well. Now I feel like myself again. My appetite and digestion are good and I have not been troubled any more with the dizziness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a fine remedy and I have been glad to recommend them to my friends."

If you have any of the symptoms from which Mrs. Kierman suffered get a sixty-cent box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any druggist and begin the treatment today. Write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy of the helpful little book "Building Up the Blood." Send no money nor stamps. It is free on request.—Adv.

EVENING VOCATIONAL SCHOOL REGISTRATION

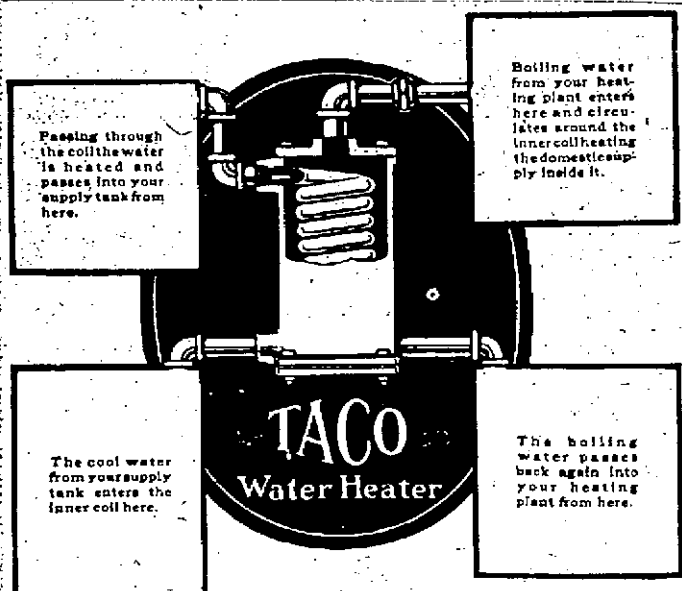

Registration for classes for women at the evening vocational school will be held again tonight from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the high school annex in Pease street. Registration sessions were held last night and while quite a number of women enrolled there is still room for others who should enroll tonight. Classes will be held in millinery, cooking and dressmaking. These registration sessions are for women who formerly attended the Morrill school.

Registration in the men's department opened last night at the Mann school in Broadway with only a fair enrollment. Thirty-five enrolled in the automobile repairing class but there were very few applicants in the carpentry, plumbing, mechanics, blacksmithing, and engineering classes.

The evening sessions of the Vocational school will open next Monday night and Principal Fisher hopes that the registration will be large enough to permit the teachers to start the regular work at the opening session. Approximately 200 pupils enrolled at the registration for the fall term of the Lowell evening high school which was held last night at the school on Kirk street. This number includes old and new students and brings the total registration to date over 400. Registration will continue tonight, Thursday evening, and Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Last year, as many as 2000 grasshopper eggs were found in a square foot of soil in southern Alberta.

This is TACO

The flameless water heater which uses the heat you have already paid for

TACO is designed on a simple, sound principle of economy: it uses the boiling water or live steam of your heating plant to heat your domestic supply of water during the winter months.

TACO thus saves you the cost of an extra fire, using instead the heat you have already paid for.

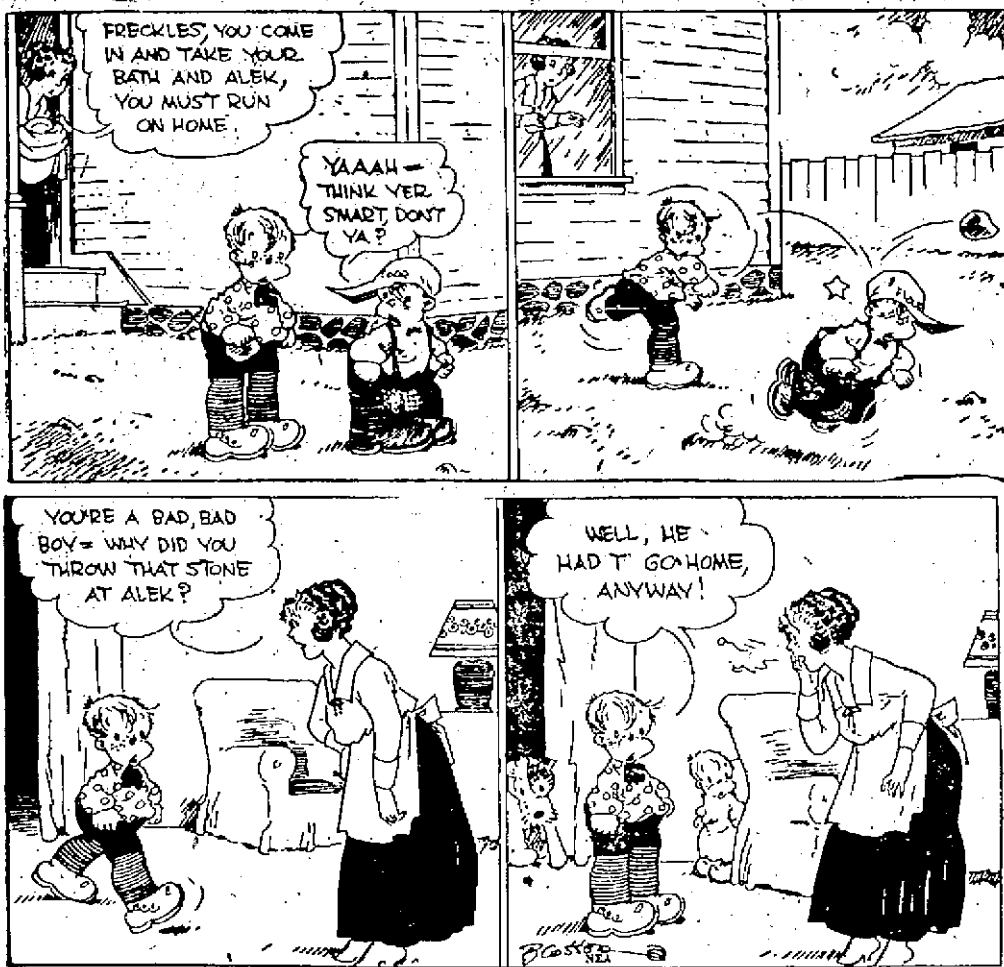

TACO keeps your storage tank filled with hot water at an even temperature, day and night. No attention—no overheating—no worry. And the money you save from shutting off your gas, coal or oil heater this winter will pay for TACO, completely installed in your home, and leave you a surplus besides. Ask the nearest Plumber or Heating Contractor for an estimate today.

DEALERS: If you haven't TACO in stock, your jobber or the nearest branch office of the leading boiler and radiator manufacturers can supply you.

SALVATION ARMY SALARIES CUT

Salvation is free, so cutting the wages of Salvation Army officers is not expected to react against the good work which the sturdy bands of men and women have been carrying on against the devil and his works for so many years in New England and also right here in Lowell.

The wages of leading Salvation Army officers have at last been chopped by the organization higher up heads of control handling the affairs of salaries and such things. The cut was long anticipated, but has just been announced.

Luckily, only one Lowell member of the army official organization has had his salary clipped off by the official orders. At the home of Adjutant Mary Arnold on Appleton street the report that the officer had had his pay cut down $1 a week was confirmed by Mrs. Arnold.

"Only it wasn't $1 a week," explained Mrs. Arnold. "It was $2." It was further explained in "The Sun" reporter that, strangely enough, $2 were removed from the married officers' weekly salaries and only $1 from the wages of bachelor officers. Local Salvation Army workers and sympathetic supporters say they believe the cuts should have been "the other way around."

But you hear no murmurs of discontent—no comments of a disheartened sort—no plain kicks. The adjutant and his family smile, the co-workers, who are not paid a penny for their generous, warm-hearted support 365 days in the year, take it all as a matter of course.

For that is the way the army has lived for so many years—not always with plenty of money—a good many times on little or no money—and always with the simple faith that the good work of the world-wide organization would be carried on whether the army followers had funds or faith. And a good many times, in the words of a Salvation Army enthusiast, "It is mostly faith that keeps things going."

ACCUSE SALESMAN OF FAKING HOLD-UP

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Louis H. Gluck, a jewelry salesman of Boston, who reported that he was held up, robbed of $50,000 worth of diamonds, beaten, bound and gagged near Springfield in July, 1921, went on trial before United States Commissioner Hayes here yesterday, charged with concealing assets of the United Jewelry Co., which was petitioned into bankruptcy shortly after the alleged robbery.

Sol B. Kantor, trustee and receiver for the jewelry company, testified that he met Gluck 36 hours after the reported holdup, and that then the salesman did not bear a mark of any kind. The government contends that the theft was bogus.

A member of the Springfield police department will be a witness today to announce the result of an investigation made by the police of that city immediately following the alleged attack on Gluck.

REFUSE TO LIFT MAYFLOWER BAN

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 25.—The trustees of the International Fishermen's race trophy last night announced that they were unable to change their decision barring the Boston schooner Mayflower from participation in this year's race for the cup to be held off Gloucester. The chairman of the American race committee at Gloucester was notified by telegram of the board's decision.

OPENING OF NEW PHARMACY HERE

With a new, commodious and thoroughly equipped store up to date in every respect and very attractive, within and without, the City Hall Pharmacy, Inc., owned by the Gregoire Laboratory and Drug company, Inc., opened its doors for the first time last Saturday in handsome quarters at the desirable location at the corner of Cardinal O'Connell parkway and Merrimack street.

The new drug store makes an addition to the list of similar institutions in Lowell worthy of genuine admiration and praise. It is a gem in construction, finish and general appearance from both the outside and inside. The lighting arrangements are ideal at all times, and the soft tones used in finishing the walls and ceilings and carrying out the modest decorative program are well worth inspecting.

out discomfort or delays. The immense stock of goods of every description in drug, medicinal and toilet lines, also candies and cigars, is arranged compactly and in convenient position for inspection and purchase at all times. The stocks are fresh and of high quality, showing a display of pharmaceutical goods of wide variety rarely to be found in drug stores of this size.

Prescriptions are carefully compounded, efficient and courteous service is rendered by competent druggists at all times.

Charles J. Sullivan, Phg., registered manager of the store, is no stranger in Lowell, having been for a number of years with F. & E. Bailey & Co., corner John and Merrimack streets, and more recently with Sam McLeod, the well known Merrimack street druggist. Manager Sullivan is delighted with the interest already shown by the public in the new drug store opening and is much pleased to have received so many congratulatory expressions from customers and friends, who predict a prosperous career for the new City Hall pharmacy.

Borden's Evaporated Milk is a milk which is produced with utmost attention to both safety and nutritive value. The covering of the cans of milk with clean cloths to exclude every particle of dust, while the milk is en route to the condensary—precautions such as special veterinary inspection of Borden herds—special care in handling, throughout the evaporating process—final testing before the finished product is sent to your grocer—the sum total of these and other safeguards makes Borden's Evaporated Milk one on which you can always depend.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS REVIVAL SERVICES

New features introduced by Evangelist Bishop at the special religious revival services being conducted in the First Presbyterian church, attracted another large audience last evening, the subject of the service being: "Our Favorite Night."

The program included the playing of a "favorite" prelude, interlude and postlude by the organist, and the congregation sang "favorite" hymns, which included "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Rev. Thos. Laite led in prayer, and followed with the "favorite" "Lord's Prayer." "Favorite" Scripture readings came next, the passages being repeated from memory by many members of the congregation.

Rev. J. F. Spess read his "favorite" passage from the old testament, and in response to a call for a "favorite" chapter from the new testament, Rev. J. D. Kennedy read from the last two chapters of the Bible the passages of comfort and assurance with which the word of God closes.

James Brown, leader of the Westminster church choir, sang a baritone solo and Roy Fulton offered a cornet selection, both exceedingly well rendered and enjoyed by the audience and leaders of the rally.

Dr. Bishop was introduced as "Our favorite evangelist." He described the wonderful life of service and offered the life of Jesus Christ as an example to be followed by all Christians.

The capable chorus choir is under the leadership of John Brown of the First Presbyterian church. Services will be held each night this week, except Saturday, in the same place. Dr. Bishop's theme tonight will be: "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

SEN. WALSH OPTIMISTIC MANSION IS DESTROYED

Says Campaign Opens With Trend Unmistakably Toward Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The political campaign opens "with the trend unmistakably toward the democratic party," Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, chairman of the democratic national campaign committee said today upon leaving for a long cross-country trip devoted to speech-making and political conferences.

"Whether the republicans can counteract the present movement remains to be seen," he said. "They may, to some extent, but the primary elections show that the attitude of the people now is one of protest against the conditions developed by the present administration."

In the senatorial campaign, Senator Walsh said the brightest democratic prospects seemed to be in New York and New Jersey. Senator Walsh addressed the democratic convention at Springfield, Mass., tomorrow.

SLAIN COUPLE PLANNED TO ELOPE TO JAPAN

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 25.—The stories of 10 persons who said that they saw the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills several times last summer sitting on a bench in the city park were checked today by officials who are seeking the slayer. The park, particularly the bench which was pointed out to detectives is not more than a quarter of a mile from the cedar and apple trees under which the bodies were found.

The bench is in a secluded spot, with evergreen trees on all sides and far removed from electric lights. The persons who told the stories said that the minister and the choir singer seemed to head for the bench as if they had become by common consent, a trying point for them. Just in back of it is a knoll from which can be seen the old Phillips farmhouse, one of the central points in the mystery.

Pearl Palmer, the 17-year-old girl who with Raymond Schneider found the bodies of the rector and the singer, was released from custody when she was arraigned before City Recorder Triandis.

Officials have not yet thrown away the jealousy theory. In fact they state that every new development seems to point in that general direction.

Another development today was that several persons were found who told of seeing two heavily armed foreigners hanging about New Brunswick the day of the shooting. The only link which could possibly connect them with the double murder, however, was that they were seen entering a rowboat on the Harrison canal on the evening of the crime and rowing towards the landing bridge, which is close to the Phillips farm.

Prosecutor Sirekier of Middletown today was informed that a relative of Mrs. Mills was in possession of a letter from her in which she recited plans of herself and Mr. Hall to elope to Japan. The prosecutor took immediate steps to get possession of the letter.

ADMIRAL BRISTOL'S ACTIVITIES LIMITED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Admiral Bristol's activities in connection with the Hunyan disaster are confined strictly to affording relief, primarily to native and naturalized American citizens destitute as a result of the fire and to the families of the other citizens who cannot otherwise obtain aid.

Instructions to Admiral Bristol from the state department were said today to have set forth these limitations plainly. If the admiral has planned to use his force for any other purpose, the Washington government is not aware of it.

DISGRACE TO CIVILIZATION

Sec. Davis so Terms Strife and Bloodshed in Nation's Industrial Life

Appeals to Labor Leaders to Help Restore Industrial Relations to Orderly Bases

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Declaring that strife and bloodshed in the nation's industrial life have reached the proportions of a "disgrace to our whole civilization," Secretary of Labor Davis called upon labor leaders in an address here today, to help restore industrial relations to an orderly basis.

"The ultra-red radical" was blamed by the secretary for much of the violence which attends clashes between labor and capital. For its own preservation, he said, organized labor must put a stop to the activities of these "agitators" and their campaign of "riot, arson and murder."

Mr. Davis' address, delivered at the annual convention of the International Printing Pressmen & Assistants Union of North America, at the Pressmen's home, included a recital of his own experience as a union man, which he said had given him an intimate insight into conditions which prompt violence in labor disputes. He knew, he declared, that often "the unscrupulous employer, facing trouble with his working men, has resorted to the company guard, the so-called private detective, and the hired thugs, whose sole purpose in life is the stirring up of hatred and violence."

"I know that whenever men clash in industrial strife," he continued, "there always is present the agitator, the ultra-red radical whose purpose in life is the destruction of all organized society and whose whole philosophy is violence and bloodshed."

These men are always on the scene when employers and workers clash, ready to incite to lawlessness and riot, arson and murder. They menace the whole system of our labor organization and trade unionism for its own preservation must take steps to eliminate them.

ASKS RETURN TO WARTIME WAGES

Brotherhood of Signalmen Also Urge Resumption of Basic Eight Hour Day

Pres. Helt Opens Hearing for Employees Before U. S. Railroad Labor Board

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A return to wartime wages and resumption of the basic 8-hour day were requested before the United States railroad labor board today by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen of America. D. W. Helt, president of the brotherhood, opened the hearing for the employees of 42 railroads and their subsidiaries.

John G. Walther, representing eastern railroads, C. P. Neal of Southeastern lines were present to oppose the petition. The signalmen are seeking a return to the wages established by the board May 1, 1920, an average daily range of $4.72 to $7.04 a day, and differentials above these rates for foremen.

Mr. Helt told the board the brotherhood's action was based on four premises:

First: The general upward trend of the living wage.

Second: That the board in computing reductions in 1921 and 1922 had not used facts "of sound validity."

Third: That the first reduction was made in error because the decision of May 1, 1920, was based on a living wage prior to December, 1919, which since had increased materially.

Fourth: That the government figures placed the living cost of the average family at $2400.

ROUTED BY TEAR GAS

Man Who Barricaded Himself in House Two Days Shot Himself Before Arrest

READING, Kas., Sept. 25.—After barricading himself in a house near here and frustrating attempts to capture him for two days, Lester Ducla, 40, a plumber, was overcome with tear gas and arrested yesterday. Officers said he had two guns and enough ammunition and food supplies in the house to last three weeks. He shot himself just before the capture, inflicting a severe wound in the left lung.

R. I. OPERATIVES CHARGE DISCRIMINATION

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 25.—Discrimination in being taken back to work was alleged by operatives in the Arctic Centerville, Royal Valley Queen and Pontine mills of B.B. & E. Knight, Inc., when they sought to return to work after having been on strike for many weeks.

When they reached the mills, they declared, they found the gates locked and soldiers on duty who required them to enter the plants one at a time. They regarded this as indicating a spirit of distrust on the part of the manufacturers and as a breach of the understanding that no discrimination was to be shown.

Several hundred workers from River Point, Centerville and Arctic marched to Union headquarters at Arctic Centerville, where a closed meeting was held at which the situation was discussed. Disaffection was also expressed by the strikers as to conditions at the Hope mill of the Hope company.

Statements issued by strike leaders asserted that the walkout of employees would be continued. "The strike is still on," Organizer William H. Derick of the Amalgamated Textile Workers said. "The manufacturers have broken their word and promise."

FIRST GENERAL STRIKE IN AMES TOOL WORKS

NORTH EASTON, Sept. 25.—Falling to receive any reply, they say, to a written petition filed a week ago asking for the restoration of the wages that prevailed prior to a 15 per cent cut several months ago, 275 employees of the Ames Shovel & Tool Works walked out on strike early this morning and met in mass meeting at 10 o'clock to consider formation of a union. They have been at work under open shop conditions.

It is said to be the first general strike in the Ames works, one of the most widely known tool manufacturing plants in the district. The committee meeting for the men state the response to the walkout order was practically 100 per cent.

DRASTIC INJUNCTION NOW IN FORCE

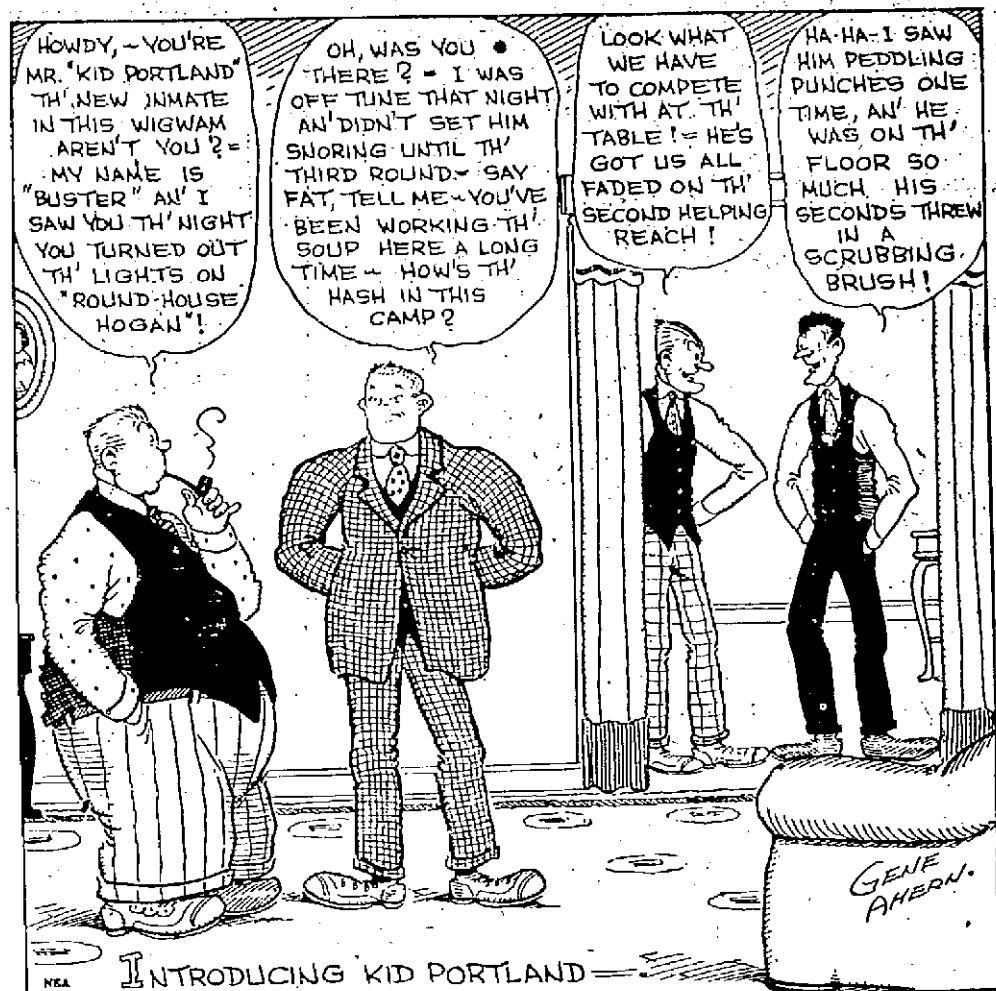

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The drastic temporary injunction order asked by Atty. Gen. Harry M. Daugherty against shop craft strike leaders was put in force today by Judge James H. Wilkerson, without any of its effectiveness being modified.

Several slight changes in the wording of the order submitted Saturday were made by Judge Wilkerson to clarify its meaning.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press).—It is reported that the grand vizier has notified the Communist government that the Constantinian government does not desire to embarrass Ankara and that the ministers are therefore prepared to tender their resignation. In this case, it is expected Mustafa Kemal will send a governor-general to Constantinople.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Edward C. Marsh, editorial advisor for Harper & Bros., and widely known critic and shop craft writer, accidentally shot and killed himself while hunting yesterday on his country place at Pawling, N. Y., it was learned today.

SEN. WALSH OPTIMISTIC MANSION IS DESTROYED

Says Campaign Opens With Trend Unmistakably Toward Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The political campaign opens "with the trend unmistakably toward the democratic party," Senator Walsh, chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee said today upon leaving for a long cross-country trip devoted to speech-making and political conferences. "Whether the republicans can counter the present movement remains to be seen," he said. "They may to some extent, but the primary elections show that the attitude of the people now is one of protest against the conditions developed by the present administration."

In the senatorial campaign, Senator Walsh said the brightest democratic prospects seemed to be in New York and New Jersey. Senator Walsh addressed the democratic convention at Springfield, Mass., tomorrow.

SLAIN COUPLE PLANNED TO ELOPE TO JAPAN

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 25.—The stories of 10 persons who said that they saw the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills several times last summer sitting on a bench in the city park were checked today by officials who are seeking the slayer. The park, particularly the bench which was pointed out to detectives, is not more than a quarter of a mile from the cedar and apple trees under which the bodies were found. The bench is in a secluded spot, with evergreen trees on all sides and far removed from electric lights. The persons who told the stories said that as the bodies were found, they were looking at the bench as if it had become by common consent a resting point for them. Just in back of it is a knoll from which can be seen the old Phillips farmhouse, one of the central points in the mystery.

Pearl Fisher, 17-year-old girl who with Raymond Schneider found the bodies of the rector and the singer, was released from custody when she was arraigned before City Recorder Trindell.

Officials have not yet thrown away the jealousy they, in fact they state that every new development seems to point in that general direction. Another development today was that several persons were found who told of seeing two heavily armed foreigners hanging about New Brunswick the day of the shooting. The only link which could possibly connect these two with the double murder, however, was that they were seen entering a rowboat on the Raritan canal on the evening of the crime and rowing toward the landing bridge, which is close to the Phillips farm.

Prosecutor Strickler of Middlesex today was informed that a relative of Mrs. Mills was in possession of a letter from her in which she recited plans of herself and Mr. Hall to elope to Japan. The prosecutor took immediate steps to get possession of the letter.

ADMIRAL BRISTOL'S ACTIVITIES LIMITED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Rear Admiral Bristol's activities in connection with the Sinyra disaster are confined strictly to affording relief, primarily to native and naturalized American citizens, as a result of the fire and secondarily to nationals of other countries who cannot otherwise obtain aid. If the admiral has planned to use his forces for any other purpose, the Washington government is not aware of it.

DISGRACE TO CIVILIZATION

Sec. Davis so Terms Strife and Bloodshed in Nation's Industrial Life

Appeals to Labor Leaders to Help Restore Industrial Relations to Orderly Bases

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Declaring that strife blighted in the nation's industrial life have reached the proportions of a "disgrace to our whole civilization," Secretary of Labor Davis called upon labor leaders in an address made here today, to help restore industrial relations to an orderly basis.

The "ultra-radical" was blamed by the secretary for much of the violence which attends clashes between labor and capital. For his own preservation, he said, organized labor must not stop to the activities of these "agitators" and their campaign of "riot, arson and murder."

Mr. Davis' address, delivered at the annual convention of the International Printing Pressmen & Assistants' Union of North America, at the Pressmen's home, included a recital of his own experiences as a union man, which he said had given him an intimate insight into conditions which prompt violence in labor disputes. He knew, he declared, that often the unscrupulous employer, facing trouble with his working men, has resorted to the company guard, the hired private detective, the hired pugilist, whose sole purpose in life is the stirring up of hatred and violence.

"I know that whenever men clash in industrial strife," he continued, "there always is present the agitator, the ultra-radical who, for his own life in the destruction of all organized society and whose whole philosophy is violence and bloodshed."

These men are always on the scene when employers and workers clash, ready to incite to lawlessness and riot, arson and murder. "The menace, the whole system of our labor organization and trade unionism for its own preservation must take steps to eliminate them."

ASKS RETURN TO WARTIME WAGES

Brotherhood of Signalmen Also Urge Resumption of Basic Eight Hour Day

Pres. Helt Opens Hearing for Employees Before U. S. Railroad Labor Board

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A return to wartime wages and resumption of the basic 8-hour day were requested before the United States railroad labor board today by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen of America. D. W. Holt, president of the brotherhood, opened the hearing for the employees of 42 railroads and their subsidiaries.

John C. Walker, representing eastern railroads, C. P. Neal of Southeastern lines and John Higgins of the western lines are present to oppose the petition. The signalmen are seeking a return to the wages established by the board May 1, 1920, an average daily wage of $4.72 to $7.04 a day, and differentials above these rates for foremen.

Mr. Helt told the board the brotherhood's action was based on four premises:

First: The general upward trend of the living wage.
Second: That the board in computing reductions in 1921 and 1922 had not used facts "of sound validity."
Third: That the first reduction was made in 1921 because the decision of May 1, 1920, was based on a living wage prior to December, 1919, which since had increased materially.
Fourth: That the government figures placed the living cost of the average family at $2400.

R. I. OPERATIVES CHARGE DISCRIMINATION

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 25.—Discrimination in being taken back to work was alleged by operatives in the Arctic Centreville, Royal Valley Queen and Pontiac mills of B.B. & R. Knight, Inc., when they sought to return to work after having been on strike for many weeks.

When they reached the mills, they declared, they found the gates locked and soldiers on duty who required them to enter the plants one at a time. They regarded this as indicating a spirit of distrust on the part of the manufacturers and as a breach of the understanding that no discrimination was to be shown.

Several hundred workers from River Point, Centreville and Arctic marched to union headquarters at the Centreville, where a closed meeting was held at which the situation was discussed. Disaffection was also expressed by the strikers as to conditions at the Hope mill of the Hope company.

Statements issued by strikers leaders asserted that the walkout of employees would be continued. "The strike is still on," Organizer William H. Derrick of the Amalgamated Textile Workers said. "The manufacturers have broken their word and promises."

They have been at work under open shop conditions.

It is said to be the first general strike in the Ames works, one of the most widely known old time establishments in the district. The committee acting for the men state the response to the walkout order was practically 100 per cent.

DRACUT CHILD KILLED BY AUTO ON LOWELL-LAWRENCE ROAD

Martin Walsh, Camp Devens Soldier, Held on Manslaughter Charge—Four-Year-Old Robert Bradley Died Early Today as Result of Auto Accident Yesterday

Martin Walsh, a soldier stationed at Camp Devens and a member of E company, 13th Infantry, was held in $2000 bail when he appeared in district court this morning, in face of manslaughter charge. The charge resulted from the death of four-year-old Robert Bradley, who died early this morning as the result of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when struck by an auto driven by the defendant on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in Bellerose.

Walsh's attorney waived the reading of the complaint and the case was continued to October 8. A complaint of operating a motor vehicle so that the lives of the public might be endangered was also placed against Walsh and this too, was continued to the same date.

THREE MILE LIMIT STANDS

Cabinet Decides to Restrict Prohibition Enforcement Operations

Prohibition Officials to Be Cautioned to Observe This Decision

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The cabinet at its meeting today decided to restrict prohibition enforcement operations within the three-mile limit at sea, except in cases where ships beyond that limit are in communication with shore through their own crews and small boats. Prohibition enforcement officials, it was said, would be cautioned to observe this decision.

The subject of searches for contraband liquor beyond the three-mile limit formed the principal topics of discussion before the cabinet. Examination of international law authorizing customs or other operations up to the 12-mile limit were found by the president's advisers to be out of harmony with international law, and it was held that attempts to carry out the munition law provisions might involve the government in embarrassments with other countries.

ANNOUNCE NEW SCALE OF RENTS

Memorial Auditorium Trustees Decide on New Rate Schedule

Many Big Attractions Booked for Auditorium During the Winter Months

The publication of a stellar program of attractions already booked for the Memorial Auditorium during the winter months, including several of the world's greatest artists, such as Gail Curci, Geraldine Farrar, Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, Irene Castle, Boston Symphony orchestra, Fritz Kreisler, Rachmaninoff and Frieda Hempel and the announcement of a new scale of rentals for both the auditorium and Liberty hall, were the features of a meeting of the board of trustees held last evening.

When the original schedule of rentals was published it was with the understanding that there would be a reduction if conditions warranted. The new and lower scale is now announced because of a desire to bring the very best attractions to the city, without imposing too great an overhead charge upon the sponsors.

The new scale follows: Main Auditorium, 6 p. m. to 12 midnight, $200; 12 noon to 6 p. m., $100; mornings, $50; Liberty hall, 6 p. m. to 12 midnight, $20; 12 noon to 6 p. m., $10; mornings, $5. Extra charges: Main Auditorium, $20 per hour after 12 midnight; Liberty hall, $5 per hour after 12 midnight; use of kitchen included in foregoing charges. Use of Auditorium for one full day, $250; for three or more days, $225 per day; use of Liberty hall for one or more full days, $75 per day. Special price for use of Auditorium for

BOSTON FIRM TO BUILD NEW BRIDGE FOR CITY

The board of public service at a meeting early this afternoon took final action on the contract for a new bridge of steel and concrete over the Boston and Maine tracks at Lundberg street and awarded it to the McMillin-Marshall Co. of Boston, who submitted a bid of $45,761.

The meeting was called at the request of Mayor George H. Brown and Chairman Dennis J. Murphy was unable to attend.

The mayor explained that while it had been tentatively decided to award the contract to the Boston firm, he wished to call the board's attention to the fact that the lowest bid submitted, amounting to $41,358, came from a local builder, Zoel A. Houle, and represented a difference of approximately $4,400. He believed this should

Nationalists To Accept Conditions Laid Down By Allies But Insist On Continuing Military Movements

Reply to Allies Also Demands Russia, Bulgaria and Persia Be Admitted to Proposed Peace Conference—Military Situation Becomes Increasingly Serious—Turks Occupy Two Points in Neutral Zone—Soviet Russia Proposes Immediate Near Eastern Conference to Prevent New Outbreak of Bloodshed—Sultan to Abdicate

(By the Associated Press)
The Turkish situation reached another critical stage today. Kemal Pasha's reply to the allied governments has been made known at Constantinople, by his aide-de-camp and is an acceptance of proposed conditions but with insistence that Turkish military movements shall proceed and that Russia, Bulgaria and Persia shall be admitted to the proposed peace conference.

The military situation has become increasingly serious. The Turkish forces have occupied Kum Kaleh, at the mouth of the Dardanelles, commanding the entrance to the straits, with a cavalry force of 2000 strong in at Eren Keui, 10 miles from the British lines at Chanak.

Writing From Soviet Russia
Soviet Russia has sent a note to the allied powers, the Balkan states and Egypt, proposing an immediate Near Eastern conference in the hope, it says, of saving southeastern Europe from a threatened new outbreak of bloodshed and giving warning that Russia will refuse to recognize any decision regarding the Dardanelles to which she is not a party.

The armistice conference has been set by the allied high command for Oct. 2 at Mudania.

LOWELL MILLS TO BE REPRESENTED AT SOUTHERN TEXTILE SHOW

Seventeen States Will Be Represented at Big Textile Exposition in Greenville, South Carolina, Oct. 19 to 25—Three Conventions to Be Held During Textile Week

Lowell cotton mill proprietors, far from admitting that increasing southern mill competition is going to shade prospects for future operations of local textile machinery and sales campaigns on this side of the Mason and Dixon line, are on their toes this week, so to speak, planning to prove to some of the friendly competitive "rivals" in the southern cotton industry that Lowell is still in the textile ring.

Lowell textile corporations are to be represented generously at the fifth southern textile exposition, to be held in Greenville, S. C., from October 19 to October 25.

The Sun was informed this morning that at least three of Lowell's largest textile concerns involving the manufacture of products ranging from textile machinery to cotton cloth and yarns will have splendid and satisfactory-to-the-trade exhibits of fine Lowell goods at the big southern show.

The Merrimack Manufacturing Co. has just completed plans for a most interesting presentation of its regular and special lines of great utility. Until very recently, it was thought that few Lowell textile mills would be represented at the exposition, although WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The unequivocal approval by the Washington government of allied proposal to insure freedom of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus and also to protect racial and religious minorities in Turkish territories involved in the present Near Eastern situation, was expressed by Secretary Hughes today, in reply to an inquiry addressed to him by The Associated Press.

Washington Approves Allied Proposal

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Another body of a thousand Turkish cavalry crossed the neutral zone from Biglia today. U. S. SEN. WATSON DEAD

Georgia Man Died Suddenly at His Home in Washington Today

ATLANTA, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press).—Senator Thomas B. Watson of Georgia, who died suddenly at his residence in Washington, early today, was one of the most famous figures in the history of Georgia politics and during the last four years, was considered by observers as wielding the strongest political influence in the state.

As an author, Watson's best known work was "The Story of France" which was used in the schools of France.

The "Sage of McDuffie" as he was known by his followers throughout the state, built up his political strength through his publications. When the government stopped his two papers during the war, he soon was publishing the Columbia Sentinel. This weekly paper has been devoted to discussion of state and national politics and during the senator's residence in Washington often contained accounts of his daily record in the senate.

During the latter part of his 1920 campaign, he was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct at Buford. Later the charges were dismissed.

In 1914 Mr. Watson was indicted in the federal court at Augusta on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. He appeared as chief counsel in his defense and charged that the indictment was the result of his attack on Catholicism. There were many stormy court room scenes during the trial, which resulted in his acquittal.

Keeping Mr. Rogers in reserve until a later date, the Rotarians offered a good program of many things for the 75 members and guests present at the "weekly." President Hutchins Parker proudly read the names of a lot of new members enrolled during the past week. The list included Mrs. I. G. Fenarson, J. G. DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION OPENS AT SPRINGFIELD

Resolutions Committee Worked for More Than Half the Night on the Drafting of Platform—Sen. David I. Walsh Permanent Chairman—Lowell Men Attend

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 26.—Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, addressing the Democratic state convention here this afternoon, declared that the tariff act of 1922 was "The most colossal failure of the republican administration."

"The tariff law has so promiscuously and unscientifically scattered protection," said the senator, "that those industries that may have a just claim to protection will receive little or no benefit because of its increase in costs of production as a result of tariff duties levied on every kind of material used in the manufacture of their finished products."

"Whether viewed from the standpoint of the manufacturer, the merchant, the explorer and the consumer, the tariff is the most unsatisfactory, inequitable and injurious tariff legislation ever adopted. No scientific basis or standard was employed in its making; conditions existing throughout the world have been ignored. With our export business seriously impaired this law is deliberately framed to destroy for our commerce the markets of the world."

Consumer to Be Penalized
"The result of these months of tariffing and bargaining is that the American consumer is to be penalized as never before. The cost of living has been increased not by the billions but by the millions; or a generally accepted estimate being five billions of dollars. "The best evidence that those who sponsored this bill have no confidence in it is that they have made provision for the executive to raise or lower the rates of duty to the extent of 50 per cent, when he considers it necessary to judge the method of assessing duties and indeed to change all tariff classifications. What is this if it is not the inauguration of a policy of giving the executive power to tax our citizens? The usurpation of the functions of the legislative branch of the government as charged by the republicans against the former administration was, at most the exercise of moral suasion."

Plare Records of Administration
"It violates" in spirit if not in fact, the constitutional provisions set up by the founders of this republic to safeguard our liberties. It is a departure from democracy to autocracy."

"The record of the administration, Senator Walsh said, has sadly disappointed the public. He has been an administration in the history of the country that so quickly lost the confidence and support of our people. Disappointment has been a disappointment in action has been substituted for action."

"Absolute devotion to ultra-conservative capitalism, platitudes and (Continued to page three)

ELECTION BOARD LOCKED IN WHILE CHECKING PLAN B PETITIONS

Commissioners Give Strict Orders Not to Be Disturbed Except in Case of Emergency—Had Lunch Brought in at Noon—Board is Reticent

The status of the petitions for Plan B, which for Lowell was voted in secrecy and shrouded in mystery today, they were filed yesterday morning with the board of election commissioners at 9 o'clock and at 11 a. m. the board went into session ostensibly for the purpose of checking up and certifying the 3500 names thereon.

Today the board is closed behind locked doors in the janitor's room on the basement floor, with strict orders not to be disturbed except in case of a real emergency. The board has no news whatsoever to give out regarding the petitions, other than to authorize the statement that they are at work on the names and will complete the job of checking and certifying as rapidly as possible.

The members of the commission, Messrs. McOsler, Braden, Allard and Maguire did not leave the building this morning for a reason, but had a "bitter" sent in to them. "We are working," was the only word that came from within the precincts of the little room.

"The petition, however, was the all-absorbing topic around the municipal building today. It over-shadowed everything else so completely that even routine news was at a high premium. No probable time of completing the work was given out by the commission, so all that was due to wait and be rewarded in due time.

CANNOT ASK VENIZELOS TO COLLABORATE

ATHENS, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press).—Because former Premier Venizelos does not recognize King Constantine or the existing regime, the Greek government cannot ask for the collaboration of Venizelos in the present grave hour, Premier Triantafyllidis declares. This statement was made because of the inclusion of Venizelos in a new national ministry representing all parties.

The premier said he believed in a policy of conciliation, but that the Greek people had expressed their will concerning the king in no uncertain voice, voting by a big majority for his return. Until Venizelos had bowed before the voice of the people, the premier did not see how his collaboration would be possible.

MRS. TIERNAN BARS ALL IN COURT

"Our floors are more than clean"

"Some housekeepers think that thorough and frequent scrubbing is all that floors ever need. I had that idea, too, before I realized that average soaps and scouring compounds haven't any effect on germs which get into floor cracks and crannies.

"Sarah Marsh enlightened me. She popped in one Friday morning while I was mopping up the mud the Harrigan boy always brings into the kitchen when he delivers the meat. I don't believe he knows a door mat when he sees one right under his nose.

"Sarah watched me fill a fresh pail of scouring suds. 'Goodness gracious, Ethel!' she exclaimed, 'Why don't you use Sypho-Nathol in your mop-water? How do you expect to destroy the germs in the dirt that's brought in from the street on people's shoes? Did you ever stop to think of the positive danger that is tracked back and forth across your floors from morning until night?'

"That's how I was introduced to Sypho-Nathol.

"Sypho-Nathol is an effective safeguard against germs because it is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid. But it doesn't hurt your hands a bit, nor injure things. The druggist says it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. Just a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use."

Mop-water is just one of the many things for which Sypho-Nathol is indispensable. It should be used regularly for sink drains and garbage receptacles; for cellar corners; around the bathroom tiling and fixtures; as a flush for the toilet bowl—wherever odors may start or disease germs breed. Sypho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 16c, 37c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sypho-Nathol."

The Newer Form of Iron, Like the Iron in Your Blood, or Ordinary Metallic or Mineral Iron—It's Important to Know the Difference. —How to Tell—

A child must have time to make bone, but it gets organic lime from the milk and not mineral lime from the rocks. So the 20,000,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood must have iron, but nature put fool iron—not mineral iron—for your blood in the husks of grains and the peels and skins of vegetables; modern methods of cooking throw them all away, hence the alarming increase in anemia—iron starvation of the blood, with the devastating weakness, nervousness and other attendant ills it brings. You should either go back to nature or take the newer form of food iron to make up for this great loss and maintain your bodily and mental vigor. The iron that people usually take in mineral or metallic iron and is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. The newer form of iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in the husks of grains and peels of vegetables. It is so prepared that it is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by your blood. While some physicians claim mineral iron is not absorbed at all. This newer form of iron may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. It costs much more to make Nuxated Iron than it does to make mineral or metallic iron. But when your health is at stake, get the better. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by Green's Drug Store, A. W. Davis, E. 3800 P. C. PROFIT IN "CHAMPAGNE" STOCK MARKET

Real Chemical Accomplishment Made at Cost of $1.75 a Quart—Sold for $40

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Overnight cable despatches announcing the entrance of Turkish cavalry into the neutral zone, sent a dampening influence on the opening of today's stock market. Prices opened lower and continued downward in the first half-hour, but were pushed up in rapid fashion, when the market was dropping 2 1/2 points. The Dow Jones Industrial Average advanced 10 points and closed at 110.00, a point and more were registered by American Ice, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Woolen, Retail Stores, Union Pacific, Chandler, General Asphalt and Mexican Petroleum. Several specialties which had shown signs of strength in the last few days, also yielded to selling pressure, which extended over the entire list. Foreign exchange rates also eased because of the uncertainty of the Near Eastern situation.

N. H. REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION OPENS

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 26.—The republican state convention was called to order at 11 o'clock today, in the city hall, for the adoption of a platform and for speeches outlining the fall campaign. The presiding officer was Chester B. Jordan, son of the former Governor Chester B. Jordan, now dead.

Mr. Jordan in his address referred briefly to the amendments made to the republican national administration. In his reference to state affairs, he asserted that in a year the republican administration in New Hampshire had reduced the net state debt to $245,752.62. Regarding taxation problems, Mr. Jordan said the people had twice refused to ratify a constitutional amendment for the more effective taxation of intangibles, but said the legislature, if it passed a valid law that would equalize taxation by levies upon the income of intangibles, should do so. He challenged the democrats to submit in their platform state commissions that would abolish the income tax and add forward steps taken in providing improved highways, cutting agricultural development and cutting the burdens of the state cannot be retraced.

Winthrop Goodnow of Keene, candidate for governor, spoke briefly. Judge J. C. R. R. of Mount Carmel, Ill., solicitor for the department of labor, who took the place of Senator Frank D. Willis of Ohio, gave an address.

Judge R. R. said the underestimation of American manufacturers, made possible by the duties under the Payne-Underwood tariff law, had thrown thousands of American workers out of employment before the war halted European industry.

He declared that the present republican administration had made remarkable progress in post-war adjustments, made more difficult by "wages, incompetence and reckless extravagance of the Wilson administration" in carrying on the war. Since 1918, he said, the republican congress has reduced the national debt from $26,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000, and new laws have lifted a tax burden of $18,000,000, notwithstanding the fact that $1,014,000,000 of the national debt had been paid.

Because of inability to get shipments of Amiesite, the Broadway paving job has lagged far behind schedule. Under an agreement the city was to receive seven cars of the preparation each week, but only one car a week has been received up until today, when two cars were placed on the unloading tracks.

The Amiesite people have notified Supt. of Streets DeBary that from now on shipments will comply to schedule, but that for the past several weeks it has been impossible to get cars because of governmental demand to handle coal.

Today the Broadway job is about one-third completed. As laid out, the work calls for new roadway from Walker to Suffolk streets.

SISLER AND HORNSBY TO GO BARNSTORMING

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press) George Sisler, acclaimed the most valuable player in the American league, and Rogers Hornsby, who leads the National league in hits and home runs, have revealed plans to go barnstorming after the close of the season.

Sisler is organizing a team to tour the New England states, while Hornsby has signed up with Milton Stock, also of the Cardinals, who is organizing a post-season amateur team.

Johnny Lavy of the Cardinals will tour Japan with another team being organized for that purpose.

Chief Shorten, utility outfielder of the Browns, and several Boston Americans will be in Sisler's lineup, including Pitcher Piercy and Outfielder Mike Menck.

A telephone alarm was sent in at 1:13 o'clock this afternoon for a grass fire in Lawton street.

MISS HOLMES LOSES TITLE

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Marion Hollins of the White Sulphur Club, long champion of the women's golfing crown in 1921, lost her title today in the first round of a match play in the women's national championship, being defeated by Mrs. Quentin F. Folter of South Shore, 7 and 6.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Overnight cable despatches announcing the entrance of Turkish cavalry into the neutral zone, sent a dampening influence on the opening of today's stock market. Prices opened lower and continued downward in the first half-hour, but were pushed up in rapid fashion, when the market was dropping 2 1/2 points. The Dow Jones Industrial Average advanced 10 points and closed at 110.00, a point and more were registered by American Ice, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Woolen, Retail Stores, Union Pacific, Chandler, General Asphalt and Mexican Petroleum. Several specialties which had shown signs of strength in the last few days, also yielded to selling pressure, which extended over the entire list. Foreign exchange rates also eased because of the uncertainty of the Near Eastern situation.

Easing of money rates influenced sporadic covering operations in the final hour with speculators for the decline finding some stocks scarce when they began to retire their commitments. Standard Oil of California advanced 1 point and Pan-American and California Petroleum a point each. The general list, however, made but little headway, most of the popular shares hovering around the low figures of the day. The closing was heavy.

Girl of 15 May Solve Murders of New Jersey Pastor and Woman

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 26.—Will a 15-year-old girl, bent on avenging the death of her mother, solve the baffling preacher murder mystery which has stumped the leading detectives of the state?

The girl—Charlotte Mills, daughter of the sexton of the Church of St. John the Evangelist—is sure that she will. Since the finding of the body of her mother alongside that of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall in a woods near a deserted farm house on the outskirts of the town, she has been working untiringly in an effort to run down the slayers.

But the authorities haven't been giving her much encouragement. Neither have they been making much headway in getting to the bottom of the case.

On the night of Thursday, Sept. 14, both Hall and Mrs. Mills, who was leader of the church choir, left their respective homes, giving varying reasons. Shortly before, each had received a telephone call.

Late that night they were seen walking near a park.

On Saturday morning, their bodies were found half a mile away.

Who killed them? Why? No one seemed to know. Many were the conjectures but the church people talked reluctantly to the authorities. Charlotte, self-styled fapper, says: "I think a woman did it, a woman who was very strong."

"My mother was one who, if accused of anything and knew she was innocent, would fight all she could. But she weighed only 115 pounds and was very weak."

"My mom didn't have a chance."

Lowell Mills to be Represented some have large corporate branches operating in southern territory.

Today, Agent J. C. Wadleigh was glad to announce that the Merrimack company would be fully represented at the exposition. He indicated that the historic textile concern need not be ashamed of its exhibit.

The Saco-Lowell mills are to have numerous representatives at the textile exposition in Greenville, General Superintendent Hooper told The Sun this morning. Some little time ago it was decided to have an exhibition showing a weaving department of modern equipment, running and turning out cloth. It was believed that in this way the Saco-Lowell people would be better able to show the Lowell concern's wonderful line in textile machinery.

When it was learned that the Greenville exposition was to be solely for the display of textiles of all descriptions, minus any machinery exhibit which would involve extra expense and more time, the Saco-Lowell people decided to simply be represented at the exhibit in the usual way.

The Saco-Lowell headquarters in the south are at Charlotte, N. C., with branch offices in all the principal cities. The Greenville officials have arranged to meet many old and new customers during the exposition week, and textile machinery experts are to be on hand at both the show and the Lowell company's headquarters for the proper advertising and explaining of the virtues of the textile machinery put out by this world-famous concern.

At the last textile exposition in the southland in 1920, there were 168 exhibits. Seventeen states will be represented by exhibits at the October show. The states include practically the entire Atlantic coast, and there are some states farther west to be represented. Capt. Guy B. Foster is chairman of

"This woman isn't like ordinary folks. She has funny eyes that make you afraid of her, sort of like a man's."

The girl's suspicions and the reasons for them are known to the authorities. But they are having difficulty in making progress in the case on account of the reluctance of the church members to present information that the authorities believe they should be able to give them.

Centered about the little, ivy-maned church and the inner lives of its parishioners, the mystery has these for its leading characters:

The Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall—for ten years rector of the church attended by the wealthiest families in New Brunswick. Eight years ago he married.

Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall—one of the wealthiest women in town. She was 14 years older than the rector. With her lived.

Williams Stevens—a bachelor brother who is very eccentric. Although 58 years old, he has told of how he once acted as messenger between Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills—choir leader and young wife of the sexton. She was a woman of idealistic temperament who used to pen lyric poetry and write "love letters to nobody."

Her husband—James Mills—is a quiet individual who has been janitor of a public school, gardener and church sexton for 17 years. Mills in statements issued since the murders, stands by his wife but says he is unable to give any explanation as to why she should have been slain. Meantime an important committee, and all Lowell textile men know the captain. W. G. Sirrine is president of the Southern Textile Association.

During the week, three conventions will be held. The first will be the Southern association on October 20 and 21. The officers are J. W. Clarke, of Durham, N. C., president, and A. E. Carter, of Gastonia, N. C., secretary. Members of the Southern Textile Association will meet on October 21. The fall session of the South Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association will meet on October 24.

TEXTILE STRIKERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

A great many strikers of the Hamilton Mfg. Co., reported for work yesterday morning, but it was learned today that only a couple were reinstated on their old jobs. All the others, so it was stated at strike headquarters, were informed by the overseers of the various departments that there were no vacancies at the present time and accordingly no work, but as soon as more operatives were needed, they would be given the preference.

As far as could be learned some of the strikers were told Saturday to report for work Monday morning. The good news that the strikers were to be given their old jobs back was soon circulated among the unemployed with the result that a great many called at the mill yesterday morning, hoping to be given employment, but their hopes were shattered when after a couple had been put to work, they were informed that the others would be employed as soon as conditions warranted it.

FOUR LEADING FIGURES IN TURKISH CRISIS

SULTAN MEHMET VI. will be rendered more thoroughly powerless than he is at present if Mustafa Kemal Pasha occupies Constantinople. Nevertheless the sovereign attends public thanksgiving services in honor of Kemal's victories.

F. O. JACOBS, general secretary of the American Y. M. C. A. in Smyrna has reached Athens with other American emissaries. Jacobs reports all Americans connected with the Y. M. C. A. have been removed to places of safety.

RAOUF BEY, chief of staff to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Turkish nationalist leader, is the real head of the victorious Turkish army that has occupied the whole coast of Asia Minor and now threatens Constantinople.

CAPTAIN ARTHUR J. HEPBURN, chief of staff to Rear Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner at Constantinople, superintended the removal to safety of Americans caught in flame-stricken Smyrna.

WHITTED TO HOLD PLACE
TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 26.—George Whitted, veteran major league player and present manager of the Toledo club of the American association, will manage the club in 1923, Roger Bresnahan, president of the club, announced today. In making this announcement, Bresnahan positively denied rumors that Spencer Abbott, who managed the Mobile club of the Southern Association this year, would be with the Toledo club in any capacity next season.

NEW STRENGTH FOR CABINET

Greek Premier Plans to Propose Creation of a National Ministry

Would Represent All Parties and Would Include Venizelos as Envoy

ATHENS, Sept. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—Premier Triantafyllakos is planning to strengthen his cabinet still further, according to the newspapers by proposing the creation of a national ministry representing all parties and including Eleutherios Venizelos who would serve as a special envoy in the eastern capitals.

This move is described as the cabinet's answer to the project of bringing Gen. Metaxas into power and is held not only as clever political influence but also as a step calculated to assure a united Greece at this moment of complete international isolation.

Former Premier Gounaris and Stratou and also Gen. Metaxas would be invited to become members of the ministry under the coalition scheme as outlined.

Alexander Diomede, former minister of finance, who is recognized as an active leader in the Venizelist party, is planning to proceed soon to consult Mr. Venizelos.

Public opinion in Greece is exercised over the reported mobilizing of Serbian forces near the northern frontier of Greece, together with the activities of the Bulgarians. The opinion is expressed that Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria plan to take advantage of Greece's present position, occupy Macedonia and thus secure outlets to the Aegean sea.

of Turkey and the selection of a successor acceptable to Kemal Pasha.

Venizelos is now figuring in the political discussions at Athens. The former premier is mentioned as one of the members of the nationalist cabinet which will seek to reconcile the Constantine and Venizelist elements in a movement to assure a united Greece in this critical juncture for the nation.

Armistice Conference Oct. 2

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—The armistice conference to arrange for the cessation of hostilities between the Greeks and Turkish nationalists will be held at Mudania on or about Oct. 2, provided that the Ankara government accepts the provisional peace terms outlined in the note from the allied powers.

This was decided at a council of the allied high commissioners held yesterday afternoon in the British embassy, and attended by Hamid Bey, representative of the nationalists. It was agreed that the positions around Chanak be not reinforced during the progress of the negotiations.

Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, American high commissioner, did not participate in the council, but it is understood the United States will have an observer at the final peace conference.

The Ankara government has protested to the allies against the presence in the Bosphorus of the Greek battleship Averoff, which it alleges infringes on the neutrality of the Constantinople region.

The remaining members of the Greek military mission, the personnel of the Greek naval base, which was discontinued yesterday and prominent members of the Greek colony have boarded the Averoff, which is leaving shortly for Athens.

Turks Invade Neutral Zone

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—Simultaneously with their occupation yesterday of Ereik Kuli, it is learned the Turkish nationalists also took possession of Kum Kaleh, at the mouth of the Dardanelles.

Seizure of these places constitutes violation of the neutral zone of the straits. Both are directly on the straits. Ereik Kuli being between Kum Kaleh and Chanak, which latter place is held by the British.

The Kemalists have an entire cavalry corps at Adramytti, 50 miles south-east of Chanak.

Sultan to Retire

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—There are growing indications that the sultan's retirement from the throne is imminent.

The violent epithets said to have been used by Mustafa Kemal Pasha against the sultan in the course of interviews with newspapermen have caused painful dismay in the palace.

The sultan is represented as being in an entire state of collapse, and all audiences have been suspended.

The members of his entourage are beset with fears, and one by one are leaving the palace.

Radio Helps Map Making

Radio Helps Map Making

By N.E.A. Service
EDMONTON, Alberta, Sept. 26.—Surveyors are mapping the Mackenzie river district in northwest Canada by radio.

Equipped with small radio receiving sets, the men penetrate into the unexplored regions of this territory and ascertain their exact locations by the use of these instruments. The radio set has been found to increase the efficiency of their work.

In mapping out the surrounding lands, surveyors have been depending upon calculations from the differences in local and standard Greenwich time. By taking observations of the stars with his surveying instruments the map maker is able to calculate his local time. This he would compare with Greenwich or some other standard time so as to derive from this his exact geographical position.

Where telegraph was available, the surveyor would get his standard time by wire from the nearest large city. From this difference in time he would calculate his distance from the known point. But in cases where the men have had no means of communication they have taken along high-grade watches or chronometers, keeping Greenwich time.

After a long, hard trip, even the chronometers would err for the difference of about a minute from the exact time. A minute's difference meant an error of several miles in their calculations.

That is why radio is being depended on now for a more accurate survey of this district. It has been found to assure a more accurate location of the surveyor's position than any method used heretofore.

New Way
By the radio method a surveyor first ascertains his local time. Then he sets up his receiving set and tunes in on some broadcasting station from which he can receive the government time signals.

Knowing the location of the broadcasting station, the map maker calculates the difference in time between that place and his locality. He finds that the time in Ottawa, for instance, is so many hours, minutes and seconds ahead of his time. Then, by some calculations according to certain formulae, he learns exactly how far distant and in what direction he is from Ottawa.

Error in calculations of this sort, it is believed, will be reduced to such an extent that longitudes will be determined with almost certain accuracy. Instead of a difference of miles there may be only an error of some 50 or 100 feet.

GERMANY GETS WORLD WEATHER

All reports of the world's weather forecasters come to official Germany by radio. This is part of the receiving equipment of the huge Berlin station which receives reports from London, Paris and other important centers. Later, from the transmitting end of the same station, a summary of these reports are broadcast to radio fans in Germany.

ALARM REPLACES SOS CALLS

No longer will radio operators aboard sea-going vessels have to sit up all night on the watch for any distress calls from other ships. An automatic radio receiving device has been designed to take their places.

This device is meant for attachment to the receiving part of a ship's equipment. It replaces the famous CQD and SOS calls.

Instead of these letters, the code for distress will be four dashes of one second each, repeated three times at regular intervals. When these dashes are received by a ship equipped with the automatic device they are amplified and sent through an electrically operated mechanism which rings a bell in the crew.

With this device switched on, the radio operator may go off duty. Any distress signal during the night would ring the alarm.

St. Paul's cathedral is said to have been built without an oath being uttered.

"Clumsy dancers make bad husbands," says a well-known teacher of dancing.

SHADOWS STOP RADIO
What are termed "radio shadows" are proving hindrances to the reception of the messages in various parts of the country.

These shadows are practically dead spots in the atmosphere where radio has not been able to penetrate. Parts of the eastern coast of the United States, a spot in southern California, and other points have been included among these shadows.

difficult. The advances were not from an overrunning revenue, but were made possible by the action of the United States in becoming a borrower alike with these debtors at the same time.

The burden of taxation in America, he declared, was quite as heavy if not heavier than that in the European nations and the creation of new enterprises rather than for the prosecution of war in a time of great emergency.

"It must be said that at the time these loans were made the legislation authorizing them and popular expectation both alike contemplated payment."

"I do not too strongly emphasize the fact that the only effective means for payment of the debt and the healing of the economic life of the nation must depend upon progressing disarmament and the maintenance of peace."

Mr. Hurton lengthily explained the traditional slothfulness of the United States toward European affairs which he said explained the caution of the American people in regard to entering the League of Nations.

Fires in Constantinople
into the entrance to the straits from the Aegean sea.

Brigadier General Sir Charles Harrington, British commander, has sent a request to Mustafa Kemal, nationalist chief for the withdrawal of the cavalry. Pending receipt of his reply a British mobile column has been stationed by Chianak and Ereik Kuli, ready for eventualities.

Reports of disturbed conditions in Constantinople itself, with the secret mobilization of men and munitions in the Turkish quarter, were capped late last night by a bulletin stating that a fire was raging in city street, one of the capital's main thoroughfares. No details were given, but the population is said to be in a state of panic.

Confusion despatches said Lady Harrington and the wife of 15 other superior officers had left the city and that the remaining officers' wives were preparing to leave today. The exodus also included many prominent local journalists and 20,000 Greeks were said to be frantically applying for passports.

The Sublime Porte is not letting the opportunity pass to safeguard that part of Thrace promised to Turkey under the allies' conditions of peace, and a force of 10,000 men has been organized.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—The fire which broke out in Constantinople shortly after 10 o'clock last night, causing intense excitement and fears that an attempt was being made to burn the capital was brought under control after a fight of two hours.

The blaze originated from an unknown cause in the Printania Musio Hall in Upper Pera street, one of the main thoroughfares. The audience was stampeded terror-stricken. A general alarm brought to the scene all the available salvage corps and the allied police and American sailors helped rescue the excited spectators and the occupants of the nearby buildings.

RISE IN PRICES

It is the general belief that as a result of the enactment of the new tariff law, there will be a sudden stimulation of prices that will go under the title of inflation. The republicans will call it prosperity. Because it may be of a rather mild character it is designated secondary inflation. It comes on the heels of the great war inflation which gradually disappeared through the reverse process until normal conditions were reached. As to the various causes of the present era of inflation, authorities are of one mind. Some financial writers hold that the inflation comes when the supply of bank credits has reached a volume out of proportion to bank reserves. Any firm that has obligations heavily in excess of its resources, is said to be inflated, and now the moving of the harvest and other enterprises coming together in the fall season, are calculated to result in a great increase of credits that under this principle would produce inflation.

The sudden increase of prices resulting from the prospect of greater business activity even of a temporary character, will help along the inflation process. It is estimated that as a result of the new tariff the cost of living in this country will be increased at least $100 per family per year. Whether there will come a compensating increase in wages is not so certain, but there is already evidence that the movement for the reduction of wages has not only been abandoned, but the upper trend has already set in strongly with the result that corporations that have recently been cutting wages may soon be confronted with demands for an increase.

For the present, the average citizen will rejoice to learn that there is an upward trend in business and whether it is the result of the political campaign or some other cause, matters little to the man who is now called back to work after a long period of idleness.

THE COUNTRY FAIRS

A good many Lowell citizens are taking deep interest this year in the success of the country fairs and exhibitions advertised in numerous cities and towns throughout New England. Last week Lowell was splendidly represented at the Grafton fair, which ran two days, and Lowell men and women also exhibited horses and farm products there. Even dog-fanciers entered prize cashes in the Grafton exhibition, and we are pleased to note, captured blue ribbons in several events.

Grafton, we are informed, made thousands of dollars in not profits this year, with attendances breaking all records. The old-time fairs are gone, but those of today are hale and healthy and giving good accounts of themselves. All the old thrills are there, and some new ones, of course. There are no more death-defying stunts as there used to be, but this is well. There are the clown acrobats and trick-mill players, as of yore. The people go to the country shows of this kind to be thrilled and entertained. They want it at small cost. They usually find it at small cost. They really get their money's worth at the country fair. With its livestock exhibits, its dog shows, its fancy poultry, its home-canning, its latest motor models, ploughing contests and high school tournaments, to say nothing of the fat lady, the Sunday school tent and the First Aid booth, it is certainly a source of delight not only for the farming class, but also for the city folks who like to mix in with their country cousins in all the delights of the country fair.

THE REILLY CAMPAIGN

Now that the campaign is on, it may be well to remind the democrats of Lowell of what an opportunity they have to place an honored member of their party and a Lowell man in the high office of district attorney.

James C. Reilly, Esq., is the nominee; and there is a movement on foot among republicans of the county to elect him in preference to the regular republican nominee. That movement is led by an ex-republican then District Attorney Ballou, the Boston Transcript, and the Lowell Courier-Citizen. Now if republicans favor a democratic official there is surely good reason why democrats should do their utmost to find their candidate in this honorable office. It should be understood that no democratic candidate can be elected in Middlesex county without strong republican support. Already two Lowell men have filled the office of district attorney in comparatively recent years, namely Fred N. Wier and his brother, Charles J. Two able lawyers who gave a very creditable administration of the office; but they are republicans. At present, many leading republicans of the county believe that a democrat should be chosen to the office and in the person of James C. Reilly, Esq., they have a thoroughly competent candidate, a man whose reputation for honesty and ability is above criticism. The democrats of Lowell should endeavor, therefore, to lend every aid possible in the candidacy of Mr. Reilly. His election would be another honor for Lowell.

CITY PLANNING

On Wednesday we are to hear something of city planning from a high authority who is to address the Chamber of Commerce and the Lowell Ad Club. It does not require an expert to name a few of the principal things that Lowell needs very urgently. One of them is better streets, another, a big hotel and a third, better traffic arrangements to relieve the congestion on some of our principal streets which are now overcrowded with cars and automobiles to the discomfort and inconvenience of the public generally and the merchants in particular. The traffic problem is a comparatively simple matter that might be easily solved. The hotel question, however, requires not only skill in planning and the selection of a suitable location, but also considerable capital for the erection of the building. Let us hope that some enterprising company with sufficient capital and experience will soon take up this project and carry it to success.

THE MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

The question of allowing the Memorial Auditorium to be used regularly for free public dances or for low-priced moving pictures, we understand, is indirectly before the trustees for decision. It can readily be seen that to announce free dancing at the Auditorium, even on one night a week, would attract such a crowd that eventually, it would fasten upon the building the odium that always attaches to cheap dance halls. That would tend to degrade the character of the building as a memorial to our patriot dead. Besides, if fixed dates were assigned to free public dances or cheap movies, there would be a loss in the revenues to be derived from rentals, which will be much needed to meet the cost of maintenance and, if possible, also to help wipe out the debt incurred in the construction of the building.

This Auditorium belongs to the people, however, and there are certain conditions under which it should and must be offered without cost for public entertainments of various kinds; but, already, it appears that the demand for the Auditorium for high class entertainments will preclude its use for those of the jazz variety.

GERMAN BUSINESS

While speculators and some German banks may have lost through the depreciation of the mark, it must be remembered that the private firms of Germany hold real property in factories, machinery, land equipment and merchandise. Most of them are in a sound condition because these things are of actual and permanent value. The reorganization of Germany's currency system would upset the German government's financial bureau and might call for considerable readjustment in Germany's banking circles. It would not, however, affect the real credit of private enterprises.

That is the reason why such men as Stinnes and the Krupps and other German financial barons, are able to put across so many huge financial deals with bankers of other nations. Germany is building on the wreck of its government another mighty business enterprise, and financiers familiar with the Germany of old, say that the low rate of the mark must not be taken as a barometer of the present or future of Germany's industrial or commercial condition.

POSTMASTERS

The federal civil service commission announces competitive examinations for postmaster in six first class postoffices in this state. The theory is, that from the list of those who take each examination, the postmaster general will select one name to be submitted to President Harding. The plan seems to be all right but somehow the people are hard to convince that it is not almost wholly subordinated to political influences. When the republican administration appoints a democratic candidate as a result of such examination then the people may have some faith in the honesty of the competitive examination.

AMERICA THE GOAT

The Turkish massacres and military comeback very probably would not have occurred if the United States had not declined to enter the League of Nations, says Dr. Christian F. Heiser, preaching in New York after a long tour in Europe.

America is becoming the world's official goat. You have noticed the tendency to blame us for everything that goes wrong in Europe. Before long we may be charged with starting the war.

BACK TO EUROPE

The helplessness of Europe is shown by the fact that the Turk forces his way back across the Dardanelles practically on his own terms, thus overruling the allied powers which, because of disunion and lack of money, do not want to enter into a new war to keep the Turk where he belongs. Of course, if we were in the League of Nations, there would be immediate war in which we should have to bear the brunt of the fighting.

MOONSHINE

It was a dose of moonshine that pulled the trigger when that colored Brooklyn janitor fatally shot a physician who ran to the relief of a police officer and another citizen who had been shot and wounded by the same individual. Just the fact that he was crazed with drink will not excuse him for the crime he committed.

Plan B goes on the ballot for adoption at the state election, then people of Lowell will have something to think about, something on which they can use their knowledge of character reform gained by the discussion of the past two years.

Perhaps when the Turks wipe all the Christians out of Asia Minor, the League of Nations will consider the case and offer suggestions for future programs.

With wood nearly $25 a cord in some sections of the Pine Tree State, what's the matter with Maine paying the bonus and getting that straightened out?

The new law creating the state commission on administration and finance, went into effect on Sept. 15, with its lower taxes?

SEEN AND HEARD

Perhaps mine guards will search miners for smuggled coal.

He that loses his conscience has nothing left that is worth keeping.—Isaac Walton.

"O America, Our Nation," is boosted as a new national anthem. It isn't as good as "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

A Thought

"The world is so full of a number of things," wrote Stevenson. "The better day (three spoons were taken from an Ohio man's stomach).

The Cynical Critic

The new play was a failure. After the first act many left the theatre; at the end of the second act most of the others started out. A cynical critic, as he rose from his seat, raised a restraining hand. "Wait!" he commanded loudly. "Women and children first!"

Small Brother's Tip

The fatal hour had come. He knew that he must be brave, so he screwed up his courage in the sticking point and said: "Shall I ask you further consent tonight, darling?" "You'd better do it now," suddenly answered the small brother from behind the sofa. "I've just taken his shoes off."

No Violence Intended

The girl had hit her sweetheart, and he said, as he slipped the ring she had returned to him into his waistcoat pocket: "You hit me, but you didn't intend to tell me," she answered. "Yes, I did," he insisted. "Give me his name and address!" "No, Harold," he said to the girl. "You want to kill him." "No, I don't," said Harold. "I only want to sell him this ring."

The Same Story

A Mark Twain story recorded by Chauncey H. Brown in his "Memories of Eighty Years," relates an incident at a dinner party at Hamburg. There was a dead silence whenever there was the slightest sign that the great humorist was going to make a remark, but to the company's disappointment he did not commit himself. The following evening the same company was again assembled and at last Mark told a story. "There was great laughter, the fun being over the fact that Dewey had told the same story to his same company the night before."

Wonderful Fathers

Three boys were boasting about the earning capacity of their fathers. The first said: "My father can draw a few lines, put a few dots on them and call it a picture, and he gets $100 for it." The second said: "My father can draw a few lines, put a few dots on them and call it a picture, and he gets $100 for it." The third said: "My father can draw a few lines, put a few dots on them and call it a picture, and he gets $100 for it."

His Unimpaired Sister

A certain hostess never can remember which of her friends knew one or the other. The other day she was talking to an acquaintance and she did not realize that her visitor was the sister of a famous author. "You are a braggart," of course," said she, "I have known Mr. Blank (mentioning the author's name) for years. I knew him before he was married." "O, yes," replied the visitor with polite interest. "It's true," continued the hostess, smiling sweetly. "That's the trouble. My father is, of course, there isn't a single member of his family that has."—Hobnob Sunday Herald.

Today's Word

Today's word is—parvenu. It's pronounced—par-vo-nu, with accent on the first and slightly, upon the third syllable. The word is a French one, meaning, ordinarily by means of quickly won wealth, above the station in life to which he belongs. The word comes from—French—"parvenir," to attain, to succeed, to rise to higher station; the French having had the word in turn from the Latin "parvum," to come, to a combination of "per," through, and "venire," to come. It's used like this—was parvenu, an American man up-to-date parvenu class, but our leading bootleggers are beginning now to take this place."

Anxious to Know

The sheriff in a Southern Indiana county placed a man in jail for "moon-shining," and then went to the man's farm, where he confiscated several barrels of illicit product. Two jacks and one that had been used as containers by the "shiner." The sheriff, in his official notice, a large wood was floating in the liquid contents of one of the glass receptacles. On his return to the jail he sought out his prisoner and said to him: "The jury has just played the dickens when you put the liquor into one of those glass jars." "Why, what the matter?" anxiously inquired the other. "Why, the jury found the stuff right in one of those big wood barrels." "Is he dead?" breathlessly demanded the "distiller" in the one of a man's desires to know if his goods proved of the proper quality.—Indianapolis News.

The Wise Barber

"You've been to the mountains on your vacation, haven't you?" the barber asked the young man in the chair before him. "Yes, I have," replied the young man, quickly that a dab of the lathering brush caught the end of his nose. "How did you get that?" he asked in surprise. "Why, I got it," replied the young man, "you've got a summer resort hair cut of the mountain variety. We see lots of 'summer chaps' now and the men are back from two weeks or more at resorts out of the beaten track." The barber continued, "and it's very hard to distinguish between the different kinds. At present there are two particular cuts we find: the 'mountain cut' and the 'beachhead cut.' The 'mountain cut' is the one that is generally known by the way the tan has fixed itself to the wearer's neck and the high cropped manner in which the barbers do their job at the surf resorts."—New York Sun.

Still a Lot of Goodness

There's still a lot of goodness mid the evils of the hour. There's still a lot of beauty where the meadows burst in flower. There's still a lot of loving mid the ran. There's still a lot of trust mid the unknown drift of fate.

There's still a lot of beauty mid the darkness and the gloom. There's still a lot of sweetness where the modest flowers bloom. There's still a lot of living that is mighty fine and high. In spite of all the sadness and the sorrow, and the sigh. There's still a lot of glory mid the tarnished faith and trust. There's still a lot of manhood in the wayward human dust. There's still a lot of valor mid the brutal creed of gain. There's still a lot of sunshine when we've had our share of rain. —By Edgar McKinney.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Diving into the records bearing upon the Auditorium site, a Sun writer has unearthed some facts concerning the Lowell fire department as it existed in 1866. Old time fire fighters like to talk of the days when they used to "run with the old machine" and sweat over the old-fashioned pieces of fire-fighting machinery with which the city was equipped to protect the property of the department. Inspecting the records of the department in the year 1866, I find a list of names, attached to the apparatus and various companies stationed in different parts of Lowell. For example, there was the famous old Mazonia No. 10, stationed in Fayette street (not very far away from the Auditorium site of today). Then comes old Excelsior No. 1 on Central street, Tiger No. 5 located on Colburn street, Torrent Steamer No. 2 on Middlesex street, Wameest Steamer No. 3 on Warren street, Ocean Hose Co. No. 1 on Warren street, and the well known Franklin Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1 on Middle street. Fond memories are attached to the husky, fun-loving fire-laddies of good old Mazonia company on Fayette street. "No. 10" was in a neighborhood that contained "fire ladders" as the saying used to be. Chief Engineer Wearie Clifford in the year 1866 received a paltry salary of $500, and the taxpayers considered it pretty good money! And the stalwart aldermen in that same year—representative men of Lowell all—were Samuel A. Allen, John W. Plimpton, John Southwick, Joseph L. Sargent, Charles W. Dodge, Josiah Cates, Henry M. Hooker and Albin J. Dudley. Josiah G. Peabody was mayor of Lowell that year and was one of Lowell's war mayors.

Lowell golfers have seen some expert exhibitions on nearby courses this year, but I am told that the wonderful play of Marshall Forrest and Charles Grassie was about as interesting as anything seen hereabouts this season. The boys, both of them only 14 years of age, astonished the large gallery of spectators at Mt. Pleasant Saturday. Their familiarity with practically every stroke connected with the fascinating game, and their rounds of applause from admiring lookers-on and stamped the youngsters as future Gene Sarazens or Jack Huthinsons. Their recent performances are all the more remarkable when one considers that they have been playing the game just a little over a year.

The surveyors have been staking out that stretch of road running from Livingston avenue to the city line. I am informed that considerable work on the Princeton boulevard is to be done within the next 15 months, and when some sections are in poor shape, it certainly seems promising to see a band of husky surveyors in khaki togs traveling up the line armed with white posts and measuring sticks, and all the other paraphernalia necessary for properly staking out a road that is going to be conserved.

Chamber of commerce officials learned today that Robert H. Newcomb, executive secretary of the Boston & Maine railroad, who addressed the members of the local chamber last evening, giving them one of the snappiest talks of the season and one that was filled with interesting railroad data and facts, has been appointed to the faculty of Burdett college in Boston, where he will direct the new course of transportation which has been added to the school curriculum. Mr. Newcomb has been acting as special representative of the management of Boston & Maine on so-called "special occasions" where the public has looked for information long desired. He had a fine glow of enthusiasm in his audience. Every talk about railroad affairs was filled with interesting stories and quips, and the people who heard him always went away with a little more sympathy for the old Boston & Maine railroad than they had when they first entered the hall.

The death of Charles F. Russell of Methuen from poisoning recalls the famous Russell farm, which was one of the landmarks of old Methuen. It was really one of the largest truck and milk farms in this section of the state, having been for years a sight-seekers' topic always, being on the highway between Haverhill and Lawrence. Russell and his father were men of large build and weighed nearly 300 pounds each. The estate was a large one, and the largest truck and milk farms in this section of the state, having been for years a sight-seekers' topic always, being on the highway between Haverhill and Lawrence. Russell and his father were men of large build and weighed nearly 300 pounds each. Met Brother Provencer over at the Grafton fair, Saturday afternoon. He had on his best clothes at that time and was taking a brief rest from horse duties on a tall set bottom-side up. He looked warm, but it was a warm day and he probably felt the extreme heat at the fair grounds as the rest of us did. Provencer said he had no horse in the Saturday cards, although he had enough in the stables nearby to fill in if necessary. It was simply a day when the pace played for one of the trotting contests had shown no inclination to travel at top speed, and Provencer, a wise horse man if there ever was one, had decided to sit down and call it a day. He met a lot of Lowell friends over at the stables in Old No. 1, before the sun went down.

TO DISCUSS BARRING OF THE MAYFLOW

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 25.—With official word from Halifax, that the Nova Scotia trustees of the International fishing vessel championship trophy had again turned down the Boston fishermen's Mayflower as a possible contender for the cup, William L. Macdonald, chairman of the American race committee, prepared to call a meeting to consider its further action? Some members of the committee have openly declared themselves in favor of cancelling the race for the international championship scheduled to be sailed outside this port next month, unless the Mayflower is admitted; others feel the decision should be accepted, notwithstanding that the American committee has endorsed the Mayflower as a practical fisherman. It will probably be Friday before the committee can get together.

It was said that the representatives of the Mayflower, including W. Stirling Burgess, her designer, who went to Halifax to try and convince the trustees of his eligibility, would be invited to attend the meeting. Chairman H. R. Silver of the trustees in his telegram said that Mr. Burgess had admitted that the carrying capacity of the Mayflower was much less than that of Nova Scotia vessels and was unable to furnish any evidence in support of his statement. The Mayflower's capacity was as great as that of any other American vessel in proportion to her length.

Would Race Mayflower

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 26.—Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the spruce schooner Bluejay, which last year won the international fisherman's race, said today he was willing to sail a match race over a sea course, and not a harbor course, with the Gloucester schooner Mayflower, barred from the 1922 contest by the trustees of the Halifax Harbortown.

Skipper Walters suggested that the sea course be 40 miles with a time limit of five hours imposed on the schooners. Fishermen in Halifax have been told that the owners of the Mayflower are anxious for such a race with the Bluejay and would put up a good cash prize.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Anna F. Finnerty, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Finnerty of 174 Concord street, and Mr. John F. Cordingley were married yesterday evening at the Immaculate Conception rectory. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Owen P. McQuill, O.M.I. The bride was Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, while the best man was Mr. Thomas Foudy. The bride's gown was of white tulle and draped with Chantilly lace and the veil of embroidered tulle was caught with orange blossoms in crown of flowers. The bride's shower bouquet was of white roses and sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid wore old rose tulle and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 174 Concord street, where over a hundred guests were present. The house was decorated with pink and white dahlias and asters. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Cordingley left for a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington. They will be at home to their friends after October 1 at 18 Crosby street.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication is received:

Sept. 24th, 1922.

Editor, The Lowell Sun.

I quote the following paragraph from a very able, instructive, and patriotic editorial in The Lowell Sun of Sept. 22nd:

"Where the G.A.R. veterans and the American Legion have their permanent home, nothing of anarchy, sedition or red radicalism can be allowed to enter."

How the writer of the above paragraph passed from one end of the veteran line to the other without taking any particular notice of the editor (or very core) is hard to understand. Lowell's beautiful Auditorium, for the erection of which the able editor of The Lowell Sun, worked long, hard and faithful, will also be the permanent home of a body of men who yield to no organization in their patriotism and love of country, and who can always be relied on to uphold American ideals, and the principles upon which, and for which the Auditorium is erected, we refer to the United Spanish War Veterans.

Very Respectfully,

JAMES M. RICHARDSON.

67 Branch St., Lowell, Mass.

We are glad Mr. Richardson has called our attention to this palpable oversight, evidently due to haste. Nothing could be further from our intention than to slight any veteran who served under the flag, for we believe that the lives of all the men who entered the service in any way were equally at the command of the government. That we meant no slight to the Spanish War Veterans was readily seen by anybody who reads the editorial in the "Lowell Memorial Auditorium" published September 21, in which occurs the following paragraph:

"Therefore, to this shrine come ye men of the Grand Army, for although your ranks are scattered and your steps are straggled, Lowell greets you as the survivors of the army that saved the Union: come ye men of the Spanish war and the American Legion, you too, offered to give your lives for the flag; and come ye Mothers of the Golden Star, ye who with the courage of the Spartan mothers of old, gave your sons to the service and felt proud that they died fighting in the cause of liberty and humanity."

To one and all with this building teeming as an impish memorial, speaking to future ages of your patriotism, your service, your sacrifice and your heroism, in the cause of country and human freedom."—Ed.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem TOLERANCE

A little boredom now and then, Is healthy for the brightest men; It touches patience, calm and poise, And adds a flip to our joys; For when you've listened to a bore For half an hour or maybe more, You are so glad to get away That anything will make you gay!

The dullest books, the dullest folks, The faintest of tales and jokes Enhance your natural delight In anything that's new and bright. So when a bore drones in your ear Long yarns you do not care to hear, Consider, as he talks to you, How glad you'll be when he is through.

If you can listen with a smile While he goes on in dreary style, If you don't Crack Beneath the Strain Think how your Character will gain! You've learned the secret of control And you are Captain of your soul! The bore's a useful chap, you see— From whom, Good Lord, deliver me! (Copyright Lowell Sun, 1922)

Further Reduction in Armaments

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The report of the committee on reduction of armaments, which was brought before the League of Nations assembly today by Lord Robert Cecil for final action, recommends that the European powers with the exception of Spain, Belgium and the newly formed states, reduce the total of their expenditures for military, naval and air forces to the amounts spent in 1913. The report further asks continuation of the work of collection statistics on armament and proposes international conferences on traffic in arms and to consider extension of the Washington naval accord to the members of the league.

Consideration of New Irish Constitution

DUBLIN, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Consideration of the new Irish constitution is progressing steadily at the parliament session here and already 10 articles of the total 78 have passed the committee stage of approval. No important amendments were adopted to any of these articles.

Sure Way to Get

Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calomel powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—Adv.

Registration in the men's department opened last night at the Mann school in Broadway with only a fair enrollment. Thirty-five enrolled in the automobile repairing class but there were very few applicants in the carpentry, plumbing, mechanics, blacksmithing, and engineering classes. The evening sessions of the Vocational school will open next Monday night and Principal Fisher hopes that the registration will be large enough to permit the teachers to start the regular work at the opening session. Approximately 200 pupils enrolled at the registration for the fall term of the Lowell evening high school which was held last night at the school on Kirk street. This number includes old and new students and brings the total registration to date over 400. Registration will continue tonight, Thursday evening, and Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

SALVATION ARMY

SALARIES CUT

Salvation is free, so cutting the wages of Salvation Army officers is not expected to react against the good work which the sturdy bands of men and women have been carrying on against the devil and his works for so many years in New England and also right here in Lowell.

The wages of leading Salvation Army officers have at last been chopped by the organization higher up heads of control handling the affairs of salaries and such things. The cut was long anticipated, but has just been announced.

Luckily, only one Lowell member of the army official organization has had his salary clipped off by the official orders. At the home of Adjutant Mary Arnold on Appleton street the report that the officer had had his pay cut down $1 a week was confirmed by Mrs. Arnold.

"Only it wasn't $1 a week," explained Mrs. Arnold, "it was $2." It was further explained to The Sun reporter that, strangely enough, $2 were removed from the married officers' weekly salaries and only $1 from the wages of bachelor officers. Local Salvation Army workers and sympathetic supporters say they believe the cuts should have been "the other way around."

But you hear no murmurs of discontent—no comments of a disheartened sort—no plain kicks. The adjutant and his family smile, the co-workers, who are not paid a penny for their generous, warm-hearted support 365 days in the year, take it all as a matter of course.

For that is the way the army has lived for so many years—not always with plenty of money—a good many times on little or no money—and always with the simple faith that the good work of the world-wide organization would be carried on, whether the army followers had funds or faith. And a good many times, in the words of a Salvation Army enthusiast.

"It is mostly faith that keeps things going."

ACCUSE SALESMAN OF FAKING HOLD-UP

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—Louis H. Gluck, a jewelry salesman of Boston, who reported that he was held up, robbed of $30,000 worth of diamonds, beaten, bound and gagged near Springfield in July, 1921, went on trial before United States Commissioner Hayes here yesterday, charged with concealing assets of the United Jewelry Co., which was petitioned into bankruptcy shortly after the alleged robbery.

Sol B. Kantor, trustee and receiver for the jewelry company, testified that he met Gluck 36 hours after the reported holdup, and that then the salesman did not bear a mark of any kind.

The government contends that the theft was bogus.

A member of the Springfield police department will be a witness today to announce the result of an investigation made by the police of that city immediately following the alleged attack on Gluck.

REFUSE TO LIFT MAYFLOWER BAN

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 26.—The trustees of the International Fishermen's race trophy last night announced that they were unable to change their decision barring the Boston schooner Mayflower from participation in this year's race for the cup to be held off Gloucester. The chairman of the American race committee at Gloucester was notified by telegram of the board's decision.

"What Do You Suppose It Would Be Like Now In France?"

Thousands of New England doughboys are thinking back five years to the dark days spent in the billets and trenches of France. The Boston Globe has sent its war correspondent, the only Boston newspaper man who was at the front with the New England troops, back over the front—where the Y-D and other New England troops fought.

OPENING OF NEW PHARMACY HERE

With a new, commodious and thoroughly equipped store up to date in every respect and very attractive, within and without, the City Hall Pharmacy, Inc., owned by the Gregoire Laboratory and Drug company, Inc., opened its doors for the first time last Saturday in handsome quarters at the desirable location at the corner of Cardinal O'Connell parkway and Merrimack street.

The new drug store makes an addition to the list of similar institutions in Lowell worthy of genuine admiration and praise. It is a gem in construction, finish and general appearance from both the outside and inside. The lighting arrangements are ideal at all times, and the set tones used in painting the walls and ceilings and carrying out the modest decorative program are well worth inspecting.

The store, while not over large, contains plenty of room for the prompt serving of patrons at all hours, without discomfort or delays. The immense stock of goods of every description in drug, medicinal and toilet lines, also candies and cigars, is arranged compactly and in convenient position for inspection and purchase at all times. The stocks are fresh and of high quality, showing a display of pharmaceutical goods of wide variety rarely to be found in drug stores of this size.

Prescriptions are carefully compounded, efficient and courteous service is rendered by competent druggists at all times.

Charles J. Sullivan, Phg., registered manager of the store, is no stranger in Lowell, having been for a number of years with F. & E. Bailey & Co., corner John and Merrimack streets, and more recently with Sam McCord, the well known Merrimack street druggist. Manager Sullivan is delighted with the interest already shown by the public in the new drug store opening and is much pleased to have received so many congratulatory expressions from customers and friends, who predict a prosperous career for the new City Hall pharmacy.

HORNSBY OUT FOR NEW HONORS

Has Chance of Being First National League Batsman in 23 Years to Hit Over .400

Also Leading Both Major Leagues in Home Runs—Has Made 42 to Date

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Besides the probability that he will succeed Babe Ruth as this year's home run king, Rogers Hornsby, brilliant second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals has an excellent chance of grabbing additional laurels by being the first National League batsman in 23 years to hit over .400.

Hornsby's official mark today was .401 and the club has had a hitting streak of late. The Cardinals should have little difficulty in maintaining or improving this mark in the remaining few games on the schedule. His log showed today 123 runs and 242 hits for 143 games.

Ed Delahanty, of the old Philadelphia club was the last National League player to wind up the season with an average over .400. His figure was .408 in 1920. Prior to that the select club of 400 hitters included Willie Keeler, Adrian C. (Pop) Anson, Jesse Burkett, Hugh Duffy and Ross Barnes.

Since its start in 1903, the American league has produced three .400 hitters, Nap Lajoie, Ty Cobb and George Sisler. Cobb reached the coveted mark in 1911 and 1912 while Sisler is likely to improve by a considerable margin to the year his figure of .407 made in 1920.

In the race for circuit club honors, Hornsby, with 42 to his credit, has a lead of three over his nearest rival, Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns, while both unable to overcome the handicap of a delayed start, has 35, but four more games in which to boost his total.

COLLINS TELLS HOW SERIES PLAYER FEELS

This is the third of seven articles written by the Sun's special writer, Ed Collins, on the Chicago White Sox. Collins has played in more world series games than any other major league player.

By EDIE COLLINS
World's Greatest Second Baseman
Frequently I have been asked the question "How does it feel to play in a world series?" I can at least say, "not momentous, even though I have participated in six."

The toughest part of any world series, as far as the mental or nervous strain is concerned, that I have ever experienced has been when I was out of uniform. Once in my baseball life I was out of the field and in the game. I've never felt any different from any regular season game. But in between games, especially if a postponement occurs or the team is idle traveling, then is when I've felt it at ease, with a longing for it to be over and to be milled away from.

I am sure the 1911 Athletic-Giants series was the worst in this respect, when rain caused a delay for four or five days. I can remember, however, some of our team went to Cuba after the series. I was glad to be through with baseball for that year. I wouldn't have come for a minute.

Frequently a world series will make or break a promising player. I recall one specific instance in the case of Willie Schang.

His First Time Up
In 1913 in his first game the first time he came to bat against the Giants, Barry was on first, no one out. Schang, leaning over the bench and shouting to Murray, "What a ball! It's a do!" meaning whether to bunt or hit. Conde hesitated for a fraction of a second, then said to the kid, "You go, you here and use your own judgment."

Schang attempted to bunt the first, fouled it off, and on the very next ball flashed Barry the bunt sign. Barry went a long way to bunt, but Barry made third and Schang pulled up at second on the throw in. That play alone I honestly believe gave the Giants most confidence than any base hit he ever made before or since.

Once in a great while over-confidence will beat a team in a world series. A shining example of this was in the 1914 Athletics that overtook the Athletics against the "Cricky" Braves. It nearly beat the Sox in 1912, but they managed to overcome it and finally won out.

"Do you think the fact that they are playing for the Sox has any effect on the players, and do some often see a dollar sign coming their way instead of a ball?" is another query that I've been asked.

Frank Phillips One
In general, I'd say no, because every player in the world is in the game itself, striving to win, rather than figuring out his share of the gate.

I do recall a certain bit of fact that was pulled by Apoc. Strunk in 1913, the play that ended that series and one that afforded three or four of us a good laugh afterward.

It was on the Polo Grounds, and Larry Doyle hit a high fly toward third which Eddie Murphy caught.

Conde, Melnitz and I were close to him when he was about to make the catch. Just before he did "Strunk" yelled, "Queerza, that hit was over the fence!" which was a reference to the Snodgrass muff of the preceding year. Needless to say, "Strunk" squeaked it, and the game and series were over.

Conde Mark so far forgot himself, so enthusiastic and joyful did he become, as to do an individual war dance on the bench, the eighth inning of our final game against the Cubs in 1910.

Once later, I remember, he got up to get a drink of water during a game against the Giants, but there are the only two instances I can recall where he was moved from his usual place on the bench.

In contrast to Conde is Bill Gleason. The kid is never still; he's everywhere, encouraging, cheering, playing, and ready to cut off his arm or leg if he thought it would be any one of his men any good.

"It's great to be in a series, but to be from me, it's greater when it's over—and you have won."

N. Y. GIANTS WIN ANOTHER FLAG

Are Champions of the National League for the Tenth Time in Their Career

Eight of These Triumphs Have Occurred Since 1904, Under McGraw

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The New York Giants today are champions of the National League for the 10th time in their career. Eight of these triumphs have occurred since 1904 under the indomitable leadership of John Joseph McGraw and this year's victory came after a typical year in which the club landed on top despite the loss of its star twirler, Phil Douglas, the collapse of the rest of its mound staff, and in the face of an 11th hour invasion in the form of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Kelly Hero of Victory
Long George Kelly lashed out the hit that scored Frank Frisch with the winning run in the 10th inning of a tense struggle with the St. Louis Cardinals and removed all trace of mathematical uncertainty in the pennant chase.

The final score was 5 to 4, and Bill Ryan, who relieved McQuillan in the 10th, received credit for the victory.

Yanks Need But One Win
The Yankees, leading the St. Louis Browns by three and one-half games and needing but one more victory to clinch the American league title, cannot settle the issue before Thursday, when they open a three game series in Boston, they will have played one game with Washington.

With the three game series with the Chicago White Sox, however, the Yankees will have a chance to clinch the pennant, which would result only if they win all of their remaining games while the Yankees drop all of theirs.

World Series Oct. 1
With the world's series thus practically assured, the all-time record affair plans for the annual classic call for its opening on Wednesday, October 4, with the Giants as the "home" team.

Successive days unless a seventh game is necessary to decide the championship. In that event a lapse of a day would occur between the sixth and seventh contests.

In the only other major league game played yesterday, Cincinnati routed Philadelphia, 12 to 2, and climbed to within a fraction of a percentage point of the Cardinals in the battle for third place.

SHEVLIN WINS VERDICT

Awarded Decision Over Alex Trambitis—Jimmy Manning Beats Wallace

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Eddie Shevlin, by doing some smart boxing, won the decision over Alex Trambitis, the Rumanian, in 10 rounds but the Arizona A.C. last night. In the second round Trambitis caught Shevlin on the side of the head with a right that made him dizzy to a degree. He was quickly back on his feet and after that there was no question that Shevlin would be the winner. However, he did not catch him again with that punch.

Shevlin not only out-hit the Rumanian, but he out-generalized him. He continually forced Trambitis back to the ropes, then, with head lowered, he would go in after the Rumanian and send lefts to the face or stomach, followed by rights to the head.

The Rumanian landed some counters on the stomach and face, but Shevlin blocked so well Trambitis did not land any of his punches. When at last Trambitis did land a punch, Shevlin did not have much force behind them.

In the clinches Shevlin landed some hard right hand uppercuts on the chin that sent the Rumanian to his knees.

Shevlin earned the decision by such a big margin that the officials could not help giving him the award.

The bout between Jimmy Manning and Fred Jones of Boston, ended in the third round. Chapman outboxed Jones so far that the referee stopped the bout and gave Chapman the decision.

The other was fought by the South Boston rivals, Frankie Wallace and Jimmy Manning. The latter won by a knockout in the sixth round.

The bout between Frankie Quinn and Brockton was full of action. They were exchanging punches every second. Quinn was given the decision at the end of eight rounds.

ANOTHER WIN FOR "LITTLE BOY BLUE"

"Little Boy Blue," the toy poodle owned by Mrs. Edith Brackett of Lowell, won the championship at the Old Colony Kennel club show in Taunton last Saturday. The winning poodle is only two years old, but has rapidly advanced the past year and has repeatedly won first place at each show where exhibited by his owner.

No defeats have yet been registered by the champion, and his record is in a short time to receive a medal in recognition of her dog's accomplishments.

ANOTHER HEAVY FROST LAST NIGHT

The second heavy frost of the month was reported from the farming territories this morning. The white blankets were heavy on both high and low lands, damaging tender crops that were in the field.

The thermometer readings ranged from 21 to 30 in different places. The weather prediction is for continued cool weather with frosts tonight.

The first killing frost of the season was reported Monday, September 18.

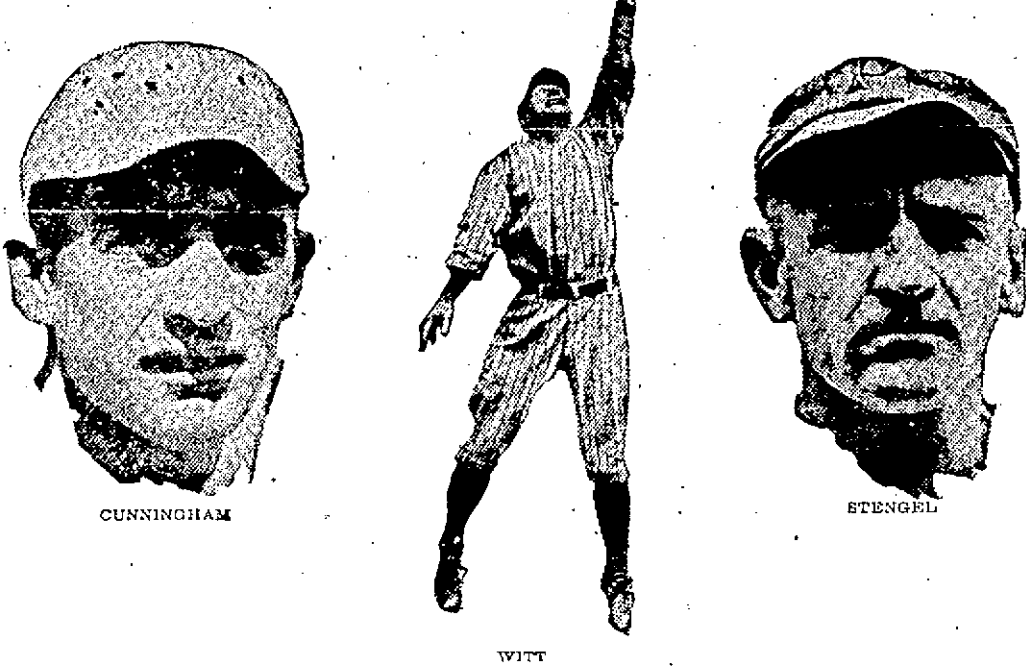

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Panther football team will play the All Stars next Saturday. Three former Indian players are now with the Panthers. Benny Williams, Ted Baxter and John Black having signed up for the coming season.

The O.M.I. Cadet Squad defeated the Lady Redskins on the Textile campus last Saturday afternoon by the score of 12 to 3. The Cadets would like to meet the Wanderers on the North common next Sunday. Practice will be held Wednesday evening. For games call 2888-14.

World Series Comparisons—Centre Field

Witt, New York Americans—Witt is one of the fastest runners in the majors going down to first base. After reaching first he doesn't use his speed to its utmost advantage. Witt is a good outfielder, but not a great one. He is a fair judge of distance, but a trifle uncertain on the catch. His arm is about the average. At bat Witt is a hard man to pitch to. He usually works the pitcher to the limit. I would rate him a good hitter. He is a past master at the art of hunting. He is away with the tap of the bat, and his great speed makes it difficult to throw him out if the bunt is half good. In a recent double header with the Athletics I saw Witt lay down seven bunts and beat out five of them. He was thrown out on the other two on very close plays at first. Stengel, New York Giants—Stengel was merely a substitute of uncertain standing last season. This year, when the Giants were hard pressed for outfielders, he jumped into the breach and has played great ball for McGraw. Stengel is a left-handed batter. He is used by McGraw against right-handed pitching. He has batted well over .300 all season. Always a good fielder, the veteran Stengel continues to play a very neat game in the outfield. Cunningham is a right-handed batsman, and is used by McGraw when a southpaw opposes the Giants. Cunningham is very fast, and a good hitter and fielder. He gives promise of developing into a great player.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

It takes two to make a fight, is an old axiom, but in the case of the main bout performers for next Thursday night "Deak" Dodge of the Moody club has followed the ancient and delicate art of the straight left jab. His best asset, didn't give Sherman any real chances. Sherman's gameness and willingness, however, kept things lively, and each round very a repetition of the other, a medley of flying fists in which Sherman's blood aching mask and Roy's rather pale and immobile face were contrasted against a whitewash. The crowd went wild over the battle and there was no criticism of the decision. Roy outboxed and outfought Sherman from every angle, offensively and defensively. Sherman weighed 133 and Roy 128 1/2.

Duffy, who is a lightweight, upon being defeated at one time by Paul Doyle, a full-fledged welterweight, went to his manager after the bout and said "Saw get me that fellow again. I owe him a licking." This has been his attitude at all times. Whenever a man defeated him, he would never rest until he got another crack at the conqueror. This is unusual in the fight game. Ordinarily, when a man is beaten by another, he is content to give the victor a wide berth.

Duffy has not practically every lightweight of note in the east from the champion down. He has also fought a number of the leading welterweights in this part of the country. The weight question never stops him. Get an opponent is his rule, and the bigger and faster they come the better "Duff" likes 'em.

Gradwell, too, has met about all the good ones of his weight and his great work here in battling the victors. The march of Tugue Morton indicates his class. Morton was going along at a rapid clip and he was being hoisted as a possible lightweight champion. Gradwell came to town and punctured the championship bubble by scoring a key victory over Tugue. The pair met again and Gradwell won the decision after a hard fought round battle.

The other bouts on this week's card look like fine fighting nights. Johnny Sunday, who stopped Jimmy Demas last week, will meet Jimmy Manning, former amateur champion; Lefty Williams will meet Whittier Walsh and Eddie Partell will make his season's debut against Ray Hancock of Lawrence.

Young Geo. Parker, the local boxer, who is now in Montreal is meeting with great success there. He has defeated the champion of the city under the name of Kid Roy and is being handled by George River, former middleweight boxer. Local men who were handily defeated last week by Parker fight and declare he has created quite a sensation there. A clipping of a recent fight is appended:

The Kid Roy-Jake Sherman battle—and "battle" is the right word—lived right up to the most fulsome advantage of the fight. It was a real rip-tin' slam-bang fight at all stages, with Roy getting the verdict, as he deserved to do.

Roy did a neat piece of scene painting. He sneaky Jakey from crown to knees with a rich red, using a steady left hand in a flow of paint brush and Jake's nose instead of a palette. Sherman ripped in at every opportunity with both hands flying, but Roy caught cannily, shot straight lefts to the nose that set Sherman back on his heels, and occasionally slipped short hard punches to the body. Sherman

The Daylights were without doubt one of the best semi-professional teams developed here in recent years. The club was sitting in every department. It had a strong and well diversified pitching staff, a classy catcher, a strong infield and a fast and hard hitting outfield. Collectively and individually the players were good hitters, fine basemen, and expert straightaway runners. Even a few high class baseball and the manager and players are entitled to the plaudits of all lovers of the national game.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS REVIVAL SERVICES

New features introduced by Evangelist Bishop at the special religious revival services being conducted in the First Presbyterian church, attracted another large audience last evening, the subject of the service being "Our Favorite Night."

The program included the playing of a "favorite" prelude, interlude and postlude by the organist, and the congregation sang "favorite" hymns, which included "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Rev. Thos. Little led in prayer, and followed with the "favorite" "Lord's Prayer." "Favorite" Scripture readings came next, the passages being repeated from memory by many members of the congregation.

Rev. J. E. Speer read his "favorite" passage from the old testament, and in response to a call for a "favorite" chapter from the new testament, Rev. J. E. Kennedy read from the last two chapters of the Bible the passages of comfort and assurance with which the word of God closes.

James Brown, leader of the Westminster church choir, sang a baritone solo and Roy Kuiton offered a cornet selection, both exceedingly well rendered and enjoyed by the audience and leaders of the rally.

Dr. Bishop was introduced as "Our favorite evangelist." He described the wonderful life of service and offered the life of Jesus Christ as an example to be followed by all Christians. The capable chorus choir is under the leadership of John Brown of the First Presbyterian church. Services will be held each night this week, except Saturday, in the same place. Dr. Bishop's theme tonight will be: "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

CHELMSFORD GRANGE

The Lowell organization will be made a permanent one at tonight's meeting, and future activities will be discussed by the members. An effort is to be made to enroll every "dry" voter in Lowell. L. A. Olney is chairman of the local branch, E. A. Jenkins vice president, James Walsh, Jr., treasurer, and H. F. Howe, secretary. S. H. Thompson is chairman of the Massachusetts League and will attend tonight's meeting.

Adventures of the Twins

A STRANGE RIDE

"HOW DID YOU EVER GET HERE?" CRIED NANCY.

Flap-Doodle went up to the Beamy Star because he liked to stay in the sky.

And of course he took the Fairy Queen's wand with him.

Nancy and Nick watched him until he disappeared, then Nick said with a sigh, "We'll have to wish ourselves after him."

"Yes," nodded Nancy, "but Flap-Doodle will see us coming and wave his wand and we'll drop into the sea again."

Suddenly they heard a new voice, or rather a voice they hadn't heard for a long, long time.

"Hello, children," said the cheerful voice. "Cheerio—cheerio! Why so glum?"

No other than Mr. Flap-Flop, a fairy who wore an old mouse shoe.

"Why, Flap-Flop, how ever did you get here?" cried Nancy.

"Just take a look at my feet, Miss," said Flap-Flop. "And your question will be answered."

Nick laughed. "And you still carry as many things in your shoes as you used to?" he asked the fairyman.

"Nothing but feet, now," answered the fairyman soberly. "I emptied my magic shoes before I left home so as to make room for something else. I took out a cooking-stove, and a washing machine, and an apple-butter kettle, and a talking machine, and—there! Whatna you s'pose I was making room for?"

"What?" asked Nancy. "You two children!" declared Flap-Flop. "I heard you say you wanted to go to the Beamy Star without being seen. Hop in and I'll take you up."

Flap-Flop opened a little flap in each of his toes and the Twins hopped in.

FACES FIFTH TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

ST. JOHN, N. D., Sept. 26.—Legal history will be made when John Paris of Truro, N. S., is placed on trial here today charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley.

The McAuley child, a cripple, went berry-picking after she had carried her father's lunch to him where he was at work near the park. According to Hattie Levine, her girl cousin, a strange man approached the two children and offered to show them a better place for berries. Hattie resisted the invitation, but Sadie McAuley accepted. A week later her mutilated body was found under a cedar in the park.

Paris, a mulatto, was arrested on the strength of a story told the police by an acquaintance, William Humphrey, who alleged that the man had told him certain things bearing on the murder of the child. In three of the trials the jury disagreed. In the fourth the jury was unanimous for conviction, but Paris was given a new trial on a technical point. In the five trials nearly 600 men have been summoned as prospective jurors.

According to high sheriff Wilson of St. John several persons charged with murder in New Brunswick have had three trials, but he was not aware of a case here or elsewhere in Canada where a prisoner has been tried four or more times on a capital charge.

CARD. O'CONNELL PRAISES HARDING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The belief that justice to all is the only basis upon which the world can rise above its present uncertainties and disturbances was expressed by Cardinal O'Connell after a visit with President Harding yesterday.

The Cardinal was in Washington for a meeting of bishops at the Catholic university. He said he had never met Mr. Harding and, was quite favorably impressed, considering him very gracious and possessing a deep religious sense. The cardinal also declared this country had done well to remain outside the League of Nations.

The poison was mixed with the corn muffins by mistake. In the opinion of Dr. Pettengill, however, he is making a thorough investigation. A number of ex-service men are quartered at the sanatorium by the government and 15 of them were stricken after partaking of the muffins. None has suffered serious effects, according to officials of the institution.

The doctor stated that a young man in the culinary department who was a new hand took some sodium chloride by mistake, thinking it was baking soda. This chloride is used for cockroaches at the sanatorium.
